INDICT OIL MAN FOUR COUNTS

FALL-BLACKMER VERDICTS AFFIRMED

FORMER SECRETARY OF INTERIOR MUST ABIDE BY VERDICT

SIXTY THOUSAND DOLLAR FINE AGAINST BLACKMER WAS ALSO UPHELD

WASHINGTON, April 6. (AP)—A sentence of one year in jail and fine of $100,000 against Albert B. Fall, former interior secretary, was affirmed today by the District of Columbia court of appeals.

The same time the court upheld the decision of a lower court under which Harry M. Blackmer was fined $60,000 for contempt of court in refusing to return from France, to appear as a witness in the oil trials of Harry F. Sinclair and Fall.

Fall was convicted of accepting a bribe from Edward L. Doheny, California oil magnate for a lease granted Doheny on the Elk Hills, Calif., naval oil reserves while Fall was secretary of the interior.

At the conclusion of a lengthy decision in which he quoted liberally from arguments in the lower court case, Associate Justice Josiah A. Vanorsdel of the lower court of appeals, said simply:

"The judgment is affirmed."

The decision against Blackmer was handed down by Associate Justice Charles H. Robb and

"DO YOUR DUTY" GRAND JURY TOLD BY DISTRICT JUDGE

THAT WAS SUM TOTAL OF CHARGE TO APRIL TERM GRAND JURORS MONDAY

"Do your duty."

That was the summing up of the charge delivered to the April term grand jury Monday morning by Hawkins Scarborough, judge of the Thirteenth Judicial district court to the 12 men empannelled to constitute the investigating body of the court for the next three months.

Sam B. Jordan, Corsicana, formerly justice of the peace, Precinct 1, Place 1, for a number of years, was appointed foreman of the investigators. There were scores of applications for appointment as bailiffs for the grand jury.

In the charge of the court was included an urgent request that all members of the body be present when voting on bills of indictment as it is necessary for nine grand jurors to vote for a bill, and if there are less than the entire personnel present too much power to block an indictment by a minority would result.

"The grand jury is one of the most powerful bodies in America," the judge continued, "and enabled to do almost anything it desires."

Judge Scarborough spoke concerning the prohibition statutes, differentiating between the whiskey and beer violations, and the different procedure necessary in the trial of these two types of cases. The judge stated that the prohibition law statute was being violated all of the time, and had been since the law went into effect, but that it was being violated more in some sections of the

Bomb Started Blaze Fatal to Two Young Girls

NEW YORK, April 6.—(AP)—Racketeers who planted a bomb in the grocery store of Sebastian Giarussio in shabby Avenue B were responsible for a tenement fire in which two young girls were burned to death last night. Six other persons were injured. The two dead children were Mary 11, and Lillian, 9, daughters of Charles Prena, a laborer.

The bombarding brought to an end a quiet warfare which the grocer had been waging with racketeers over a period of weeks. Their demands for "protection money," gave way to threats and the bombing came as a punishment.

The explosion wrecked Giarussio's store on the ground floor of the tenement and set fire to the building.

RURAL MISSOURI PREACHER KILLS EVANGELIST WHO HAD SOUGHT TO REUNITE CHURCH

NEVADA, Mo., April 6.—(AP)—The reunited congregation of a little log church at Halley's Bluffs mourned today as a coroner's jury took up the shooting of the Rev. George Rider, Kansas City evangelist, at the home of its former pastor, the Rev. J. L. Brown, Saturday.

The evangelist, 43, mortally wounded on a mission of peace, died here Easter Day, praying for forgiveness for Mr. Brown, a 67-year-old veteran of the ministry, who was held in the Vernon county jail.

"I wish I was dead, too," the prisoner said.

A pall was cast over their little church in the White Oak clearing. The men and women in its homemade pews, worshipped in sorrow under a crudely painted motto:

"Christian Union Without Controversy."

Webster Hallett, prosecuting attorney, said the motive of the shooting hinged on the success of services Mr. Rider had conducted the last three weeks in the non-denominational pulpit Mr. Brown resigned last December. Sixteen persons were converted in a revival that restored harmony to the church.

Mr. Rider, called to attend a funeral in Kansas City, said he sought to pay Mr. Brown a compliment in asking him to conduct Easter services. The former pastor refused.

The evangelist was shot in the back and left side as he returned with Mrs. Rider to his motor car. Dropping to his knees, he prayed for his assailant.

"I would rather go back to Kansas City in a box," he said, "than to leave this community while there is so much bad feeling in it."

C. P. McCumber, deputy sheriff and a member of the church, arrested the former pastor. Authorities said he had told several versions of events leading up to the shooting.

He was quoted as saying insistence of the evangelist on a reconciliation had angered him and led to blows. Again he said the evangelist had attempted to force entrance to his house. He said dissension had caused him to resign.

"There was a lot of gossip," he said, "a lot of untrue gossip. I got out of the church to stop it."

Authorities said filing of a charge against Brown probably would follow the inquest, which they anticipated would consume the afternoon Brown has engaged an attorney.

The 67-year-old pastor, formerly an Ozark blacksmith, was held in the same cell with Irby Traywick, 25, who today pleaded guilty to murdering a highway companion and was sentenced to life imprisonment.

Clyde B. Brown, Kansas City, son of the pastor, said today, "dad took spells in his head. He was kicked by a mule 25 years ago, and he'e been queer at times since."

The son suggested that his father may have borne Rider ill with for some years. He said he remembered dimly a dispute between them several years ago.

"One time Mr. Rider said he had a preaching engagement for my father," the son related. "When went to fill it, nobody was there, and I know he got mad. I don't remember just how it was, but it was something like that."

Wanted All For Himself and Then Calmly Took It

CHICAGO, April 6.—(AP)—Happiness radiated from Mr. Andrews Papatomy, proprietor of a florist shop yesterday.

It was Easter Sunday and business had been all that he had expected.

He was particularly pleased when a young man, who seemed to be a real gift to Easter, walked into the shop. He was deftly tailored and asked for a flower to "top him off."

"Just a simple spring of sweet peas would do very well," he said.

"But," said Mr. Papatomy, "sweet peas in a buttonhole. Don't you after all want these flowers for your wife or mother?"

"No, darling," the young man replied, "I want everything for myself," and having made this clear, he drew a pistol, took $495 from Mr. Papatomy, locked him up in the cold storage room among the lilies and sweet peas, and departed.

"He was," said Mr. Papatomy, to the first policeman he could find, "a tough egg."

RUMORS CONTINUE RIFE AS ELECTION TIME APPROACHES

Rumors of various natures and content in connection with municipal politics were abroad in Corsicana Monday on the eve of the annual city election to be held Tuesday at which a mayor and two commissioners, a city attorney and a city tax assessor and collector are to be elected, but none of sufficient moment to startle political circles from their languid indifference.

"Dark horse, candidates were mentioned freely and various conjectures offered as to the outcome, but no public announcement of additional candidates were forthcoming Monday, and the official ballot will bear only those names carried in Saturday's Corsicana Daily Sun.

The polls will open at 8 a. m and close at 6 p. m. and all citizens holding a poll tax receipt or exemption are qualified to participate. Four voting places have been named as follows:

Ward One—Pickering Lumber company, W. J. Morris, judge.

Ward Two—Fire Station No. 2, H. W. Carson, judge.

Ward Three—Navarro county courthouse—Mrs. Ethel McGee, judge.

Ward Four—City hall, Dr. T. W. Watson, judge.

PROPONENTS WIN VICTORY IN FIRST SKIRMISH IN HOUSE

PETSCH REGULATORY BILL ORDERED PRINTED ON MINORITY REPORT

AUSTIN, April 6.—(AP)—Proponents of public utility regulation achieved a temporary victory in the house today when the Petsch public utility bill was ordered printed on minority report, 67 to 49. The bill would set up a commission of three members with statewide jurisdiction.

Under the Petsch bill, favored by Governor Sterling over other proposed methods of public utility regulation, the original jurisdiction in rate matters would remain with the city government with both the city and the utility having the right of appeal to the commission.

Appeals from the commission would be taken to the district court of the judicial district adjacent to the one where the rate controversy arose.

Petsch was bombarded with questions as he started to explain the bill. Opponents wanted to know the salaries of the commissioners, how many new jobs it would create and who would act as law counsel for the commission. Petsch said he was willing to accept an amendment reducing the salaries of the commissioners, now placed at $10,000, and also to make the attorney general the chief law adviser.

Cost of operting the commission would not exceed $500,000 per year, Petsch said. At this rate it would amount to one cent on each $4 bill of the consumer.

A motion by Representative Keller of Dallas to table the motion to print was defeated, 65 to 49.

Utilities Probe Is Stopped in Senate

AUSTIN, April 6.—(AP)—The Parrish utilities investigation resolution was stopped in the senate this morning by a point of order raised by Senator Hopkins of Gonzales, and sustained by Lieut. Governor Witt. Hopkins' point of order was that a 24-hour notice was necessary before Parrish could bring the resolution before the senate. The resolution was given an adverse report by the committee on state affairs. Notice of a minority re-

YOUTH GRANTED NEW TRIAL DEATH HIS SWEETHEART

VIRGIL KIRKLAND HAD BEEN CONVICTED DEATH PRETTY INDIANA GIRL

VALPARAISO, Ind., April 6.—(AP)—Virgil Kirkland was granted a new trial today for the murder of his Gary high school girl sweetheart, Arlene Draves, Judge Grant Crumpacker in Porter county circuit court ruled that evidence on the first count in the indictment, that of murder by striking the 19-year-old girl with his fist, was insufficient for conviction.

Judge Crumpacker's decision was rendered after studying the evidence for several weeks. Kirkland's punishment had been fixed by the jury at life improsonment. The court said there would have been no question about it if the jury had voted for conviction on the count charging murder while committing rape.

A crowded courtroom heard the judge read his lengthy decision.

Judge Crumpacker expressed sympathy for the family of the Gary, Ind., girl who died after a drinking party there last Nov. 29. He said, a higher court would surely have reversed the jury's decision had he refused Kirkland a new trial and instead granted him an appeal.

"I received more mail regarding the case than any other in my experience on the bench," he said. "Ninety per cent of it was

Washington Woman Shot By Robber Is Dead From Wounds

WASHINGTON, April 6.—(AP)—Mrs. Lizzie Jaynes, who did not flinch when a robber shot her in the abdomen last Friday night, died last night as a $200 reward was offered for the arrest of her slayer.

The 59-year-old woman was shot when two masked men held up a tea shop at the busy Eighteenth street and Columbia Road intersection. The pistol was discharged accidentally, witnesses said, and after the robbers fled, Mrs. Jaynes talked with police and then went to her home before she discovered the wound. She was removed to a hospital but efforts to save her life were fruitless.

CHARGED WITH MURDER.

HOUSTON, April 6.—(AP)—W. J. Davidson, 25, son of Dr. E. L. Davidson, prominent Wharton citizen, today was under a charge of murder for the death of P. Z. Graves, 27, of Houston. Graves died at Columbus yesterday of injuries received in a fist fight after an automobile collision Saturday night. His skull was fractured.

SIX DROWNED AS AUTO PLUNGES INTO MISSISSIPPI RIVER

CHESTER, Ill., April 6.—(AP)—A coroner's jury was called today to investigate the drowning of six persons here last night when a motor car in which they were riding plunged down an embankment and into the Mississippi river. Two other occupants of the car were rescued.

John Maness of St. Louis, driver of the car, started down the embankment, which leads to a ferryboat landing, but had gone only a short distince when he discovered the boat was in the middle of the river. Upon seeing the car, attendants of the boat signalled they would return to the illinois side, but Maness appeared to lose control of the vehicle, and it plunged ahead at rapid speed.

Attaches of the ferry rescued Manes and Allen Brooks, who managed to free themselves from the car, and made futile attempts to pull Mrs. Maness and Mr. and Mrs. Frank Cerney and their three children from the water. Early today all of the bodies, with the exception of that of one of the Cerney children, had been recovered.

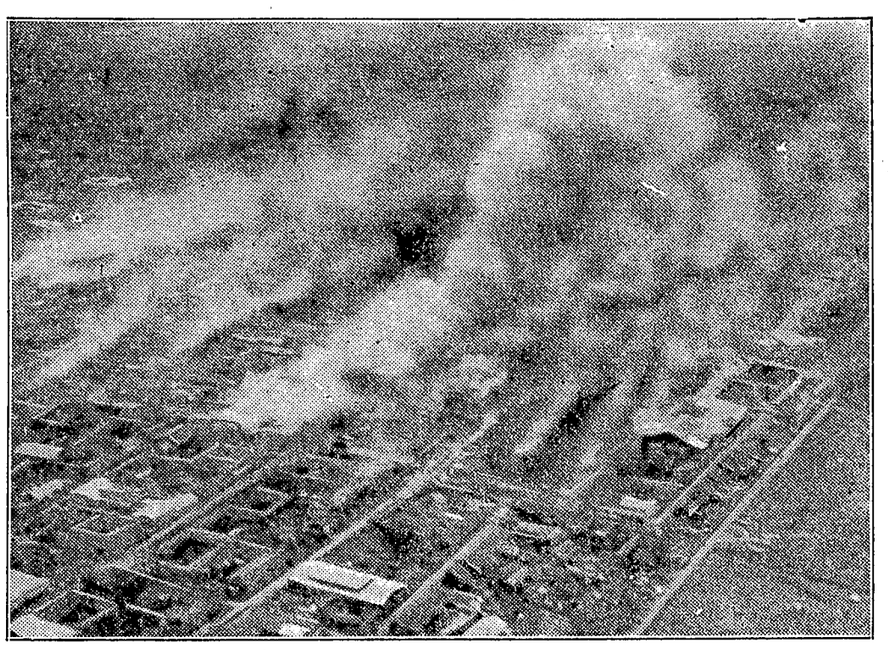

Woman Inmate of Fort Worth Jail Found Hanging

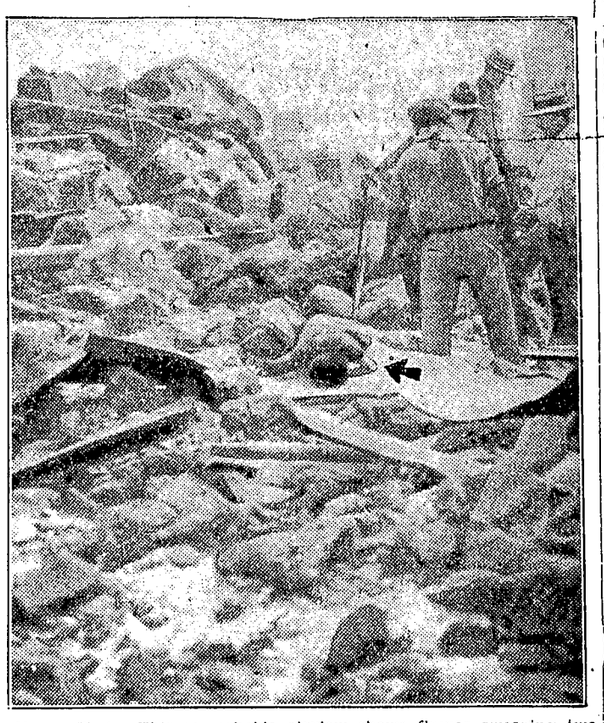

FORT WORTH, April 6.—(AP)—Eloise McClure, 33, hanged herself in her cell in the county jail today. Justice Faulkner returned a verdict of suicide.

The body was found by Mrs. E. C. Johnson, jail matron. The woman had used the belt from her uniform, tying one end on the bedpost. Mrs. Johnson said the woman evidently drew up her feet to cause strangulation.

While a technical charge of vagrancy had been placed against her, the woman had gone to jail voluntarily to take treatment for a drug ahbit the matron said.

SEARCHING PROBE STARTED IN DEATH MARINE SATURDAY

NAVAL MEDICAL OFFICER AND PRESIDENT MONCADO IN CLASH

MANAGUA, Nicaragua, April 6.—(AP)—A searching inquiry was under way today into events of Saturday night which culminated in the shooting of a marine corps sergeant and a subsequent dramatic contact between a naval surgeon officer and the president of Nicaragua.

The marine corps sergeant, W. H. Pigg, who also was a second lieutenant in the Nicaraguan national guard, was understood to have become slightly demented as a consequence of the severe strain to which everyone here has been subjected since last Tuesday's quake.

In the course of a reprimand to members of the Kuardia Nacional he was shot and killed, and was taken to a house nearby where President Moncado and members of his staff had established their residence. Intense excitement prevailed and feeling outside ran high.

Lieutenant Commander William Hetfield, who at nearby Campo De Marte has been in charge of the Hedculean surgical task which followed the earthquake, heard of the shooting and understanding that a marine was wounded, rushed to the house.

He was stopped at the door by two Nicaraguan officials, supposed to be Anastacio Samoza, acting foreign minister, who was educated in the United States, and Antonio Flores Cega, minister of public works, who does not speak English.

Lieutenant Commander Hetfield, worn almost to the breaking point by the tremendous strain of hundreds of operations and other relief work with which he has been associated since last Tuesday, demanded entrance and when it was refused forced his way into the house.

Inside he found the marine sergeant dead instead of wounded as he had expected. President Moncado appeared and in the excitement of the moment remind-

Madeira Revolt Will Be Fought By Stern Plans

LISBON, Portugal, April 6.—(AP)—Two batteries of light artillery and 500 men from the Lisbon garrison were dispatched today to Funchal, Maderia, to put down the revolt which Saturday night succeeded in wresting power from the military governor there.

The cabinet, after a two hour discussion, decided to take stern methods, employing all means at its command to regain control of the island. Considerable encouragement was received from Funchal reports which said the populace had received the revolters' coup coldly and with hostility.

Funchal advices here said the movement began with the mutiny of two army officers, Lieutenant Camoens and Silvio Penlico.

TORRID CHICAGO MAYORALTY CAMPAIGN ENDS WITH VERDICT OF VOTERS AT POLLS TUESDAY

CHICAGO, April 6.—(AP)—Who is going to be Chicago's World's Fair mayor?

One more day of words and the voters will decide the question tomorrow, choosing between William Hale Thompson, republican, and Anton J. Cermak, democrat, immigrant Czech-Slovakian who came up from coal mining to a position of power in politics.

Confidence radiated from both sides as the rival candidates pushed their campaigns without pausing for Easter Sunday. Cermak told his audiences he felt he would win by the largest vote ever given a mayoralty candidate in Chicago. At the same time he announced that if elected he would resign as chairman of the county board before becoming mayor. Thompson headquarters issued a statement in which Mrs. Bertha Baur, republican national committeewoman was quoted as saying he would be re-elected by from 100,000 to 125,000.

Whatever the result, it is bound to be unusual in Chicago politics.

If Thompson wins it will give him a longer term than any of his predecessors, as he already served thrice as mayor. If Cermak is victorious it will put into the mayor's chair for the first time a man who was not born on American shores.

Thompson has served twelve years. So did Carter H. Harrison, Jr.—four two-year ones and a four-year. The first Carter Harrison, assassinated on the closing day of the 1893 World's Fair, served ten years five two-year terms.

The campaign, compared with the primary February, has been quiet, although a slight touch of violence was reported last night when a powder bomb was exploded between two apartment buildings, in one of which resides Joseph Sikorski, a candidate for alderman. Both buildings were slightly damaged.

Negro Shoots Fruit Dealer With Latest Idea in Gas Guns

HOUSTON, April 6. (AP)—Police sought to describe today a novel "shooting" in front of a downtown fruit stand last night.

A. W. Vaden, 40, fruit dealer appeared to have been peppered with bird shot, but no bird shot could be found when he was receiving first aid.

The mystery was unravelled shortly before midnight when a negro went to police headquarters and said he had shot Vaden with a tube of gas which was carrying something resembling a pellet.

"Hit don't kill 'em but it knocks 'em out,' the negro explained.

Officers puzzled over what charges to file and finally decided on aggravated assault.

The negro and Vaden had quarreled when the latter objected to him parking an automobile in front of Vaden's fruit stand.

C. C. JULIAN IS CHARGED IN FOUR CASES ON MONDAY

PROMINENT OIL MAN INDICTED ON CHARGE KIDNAPING AND EXTORTION

LAREDO, April 6.—(AP)—C. C. Julian, Oklahoma and California oil operator, was named in four of five indictments returned by the Webb county grand jury shortly after noon today, in connection with the alleged attempted robbery of $50,000 from L. S. Boling of Oklahoma City and San Antonio.

C. C. Boren, the oil man's secretary, was named in three counts and Clay Mann, an employe of Junian in the Julian Royalty and Oil company of Oklahoma City, was named in four counts.

One blanket indictment was returned jointly against C. C. Julian, C. C. Boren and Clay Mann, charging extortion and robbery. The offense was committed, the bill alleged, on April 2 against Lamar S. Boling.

Two counts in the bill alleged that "the defendants did forcibly take Lamar S. Boling for the purpose and with the intent of taking, receiving, demanding and extorting $50,000 money."

Another count charged that on the same day, Julian, Boren and Mann, acting together, "did then and there by force, threats and duress take, confine and kidnap

FORMER RAILROAD WORKER CONFESSES WRECKING TRAIN

THIRTEEN PEOPLE KILLED IN WRECK ON FRISCO RAILWAY IN 1929

HENRYETTA, Okla., April 6.—(AP)—George Darnell, 38, discharged section hand, today pleaded guilty in superior court to wrecking a Frisco passenger train here August 18, 1929.

Thirteen persons were killed.

Darnell was arrested last night in Parsons, Kansas.

Judge J. Harry Swan said he would pass sentence this afternoon. Darnell pleaded guilty to murder charges.

Confronted with pictures of the wreck, Darnell wept. He told the court he had been discharged the day before and thought if he could wreck a freight train by "cockin" a switch he could secure the discharge of his foreman.

Instead of a freight train, a Frisco passenger train was the next to pass the switch.

Thirteen persons, most of them negroes, died as the engine, baggage and first coach left the rails. Seven persons were slightly injured.

The engineer and fireman were killed. Burns from steam escaping from the wrecked engine accounted for most of the deaths.

Darnell was arrested by special officers of the St. Louis San Francisco railroad, and Parsons, Kansas, officers.

He had been trailed nearly a year, officers said. After the arrest Darnell said he remained in Henryetta nearly a year, leaving only after he suspected that officers in the wreck had been

REPAIRS ORDERED ON BUILDING STATE LAND DEPARTMENT

MOTION TO RECONSIDER SUNDAY MOVIE BILL WITHDRAWN BY PARRISH

AUSTIN, April 4.—(AP)—The senate strayed from casual consideration of local and non-controversial bills this morning to a sharp debate over a bill to appropriate $10,000 to repair and renovate the old land office building or order removal of the building from the capitol grounds The debate was precipitated when Senator Hornsby of Austin called the bill up for consideration.

The debate waxed warm in spots and was featured by a short, sharp tilt between Hornsby and Senator Holbrook of Galveston. The bill was passed 20 to 2.

Senator Parrish of Lubbock said he no longer objected to a bill by Senators Woodul of Houston and Williamson of San Antnio, lifting the ban from Sunday movie and theatrical performances and withdrew his motion to reconsider the vote. The Woodull-Williamson bill would authorize the local option plan governing Sunday shows.

The senate passed two bills, aimed at checking the sale, possession and transportation of explosives and machine guns. A bill by Senator Woodward of Coleman prohibiting the possession, transportation and sale of machine guns, bombs, hand grenades and other explosives was finally passed. A bill by Senator Poage of Waco, to require the keeping of records of the sale of all explosives, also was passed.

A bill by Dr. Beck of DeKalb, chairman of the senate finance committee, to establish a criminal insane hospital in connection with the state prison system was passed.

A bill by Senator Berkeley of Alpine, proposing a fine of from $10 to $500 for the destruction and mutilation of native plants and prehistoric bones and relics was passed. The bill was amended to take Indian arrow heads out of the list of relics.

Salary Limit Set.

A bill by Senator Rawlings of Fort Worth to establish a $7,000 per year maximum salary for Tarrant county office holders was passed. The minimum, under the Rawlings bill, is $5,000. The old maximum was $12,500. Under the bill office holders in the county may make an additional $2,000 per year if the fees of office suffice.

A bill which would prohibit the erection of monuments or memorials on the capitol grounds without permission of the legislature, was passed by the senate.

A bill seeking an appropriation of $6,500 to be used in erecting monuments to Texas heroes was among those passed. The bill was by Senator Hornsby of Austin.

Frost School Building Bill Becomes Law

AUSTIN, April .—(AP)—Governor Sterling today signed the East Texas malarial control and the Frost independent school district relief bills. The malarial bill calls for an appropriation of $50,000 while the amount asked for relief of the tornado torn Navarro county school district was $14,727. Both are senate bills.

The two house bill, one providing for a local road law in Dickens county and the other fixing the term of court in the twelfth judicial district, also were signed by the governor.

BROTHERS CONVICTED OF LINGLE MURDER; SENTENCED 14 YEARS

CHICAGO, April 4.—(AP)—The responsibility for the murder of Alfred Lingle was placed today on the broad shoulders of Leo V. Brothers through his conviction by a jury which decided on 14 years imprisonment as his punishment.

Breaking what appeared to be a hopeless deadlock, the jury in Judge Joseph Sabath's court found the tall, blonde St. Louis gangster guilty of the crime late yesterday afternoon and gave him the lightest sentence possible under the Illinois law. Twenty-seven hours of stormy deliberation preceded the verdict.

Thus ended the first big gangland case to reach a jury in Chicago, but there were indications that the legal fight to save Brothers was not over, as defense counsel announced they would ask for a new trial, and said they felt confident a rehearing would be granted. They described the result as a compromise. April 17 was fixed as the date for hearing their arguments.

"We have by no means given up hope of proving that Brothers had nothing to do with the Lingle murder," said Louis Piquett, one of the Brothers' counsel.

Civic leaders, on the other hand, hailed the result as a blow to Chicago gangs and the prosecuting attorneys said they were satisfied that the verdict was just. Patrick Roche, chief investigator for the state's attorney's office also was pleased.

Brothers took the verdict calmly. He paled a little when it was read but otherwise remained as much unperturbed as he did during all the while the prosecution was piling up testimony of witnesses who said they recognized him as the man they saw near or fleeing from the scene of the Tribune reporter's slaying last June 9.

Twenty-Four Ballots.

Twenty-four ballots were taken by the jury whose members said they started out 7 to 5 for acquittal, gradually reaching eleven to one for conviction. H. W. Crotzer said that at no time was the electric chair, demanded by the prosecution, given any consideration. The maximum considered was life imprisonment.

Philip Hagerman, who held out for 26 hours for acquittal was quoted by the Herald and Examiner as saying he "still believed Brothers innocent."

The trial, lasting nearly three weeks, resolved into a question of the identification of the man seen fleeing from the vicinity of the Michigan avenue pedestrian tunnel in which Lingle was shot in the back of the head while en route to a race course. No attempt to prove an alibi for Brothers was made by the defense which described the case as a frameup, not did the prosecution try to prove a motive as an answere to the oft-repeated question:

"Why was Lingle killed?"

Brothers, interview in his cell at the county jail said:

"I'm innocent of Lingle's murder as a new born babe. I still have a lot of fight in me."

RED CROSS TAKES CHARGE RELIEF IN MANAGUA SECTORS

LOOTERS ARE EXECUTED; ALL DOGS BEING KILLED; MORE BODIES RECOVERED

BY WILLIAM H. EWING

MANAGUA, Nicaragua, April 4.—(AP)—The Red Cross today took charge of relief work in Manague, razed by eathequake Tuesday and gutted by fire in the hours that followed.

Aided by the United States marines and Nicaraguan constabulary, Ernest J. Swift, Red Cross official who arrived late yesterday by plane from Miami, set in motion relief and salvage machinery which will aid toward eventual rehabilitaiton of the city's 45,000 population.

Swift came to a city of ruins, deserted by two-thirds of its residents and with the remaining third living in tents and temporary shelters on the heights overlooking the debris. Swift said never in his experience with disasters has he found one where the destruction was so complete. Two thousad persons lost their lives in the quake.

While recovery of bodies of victims and treatment of injuries continue, other marine patrols are meeting certain emergency situations which have developed. The guard details have carried out unhesitatingly orders to shoot looters and four despatched Thursday night are understood to have brought the total executed to 20.

Shooting Looters—Dogs.

Another patrol is shooting at sight all dogs caught roaming the streets, for fear that the lack of water and heat may drive some of them mad and lead to an epidemic of hydrophobia among refugees. Several cases of rabies have been reported. Another patrol follows the former and bury the slain animals.

Since the days of the conquistadores, who brought modern clothing to the Nicaraqua, the women of this section have washed their clothes in the lakes about the city. Forty who were thus engaged were caught unawares by a landslide precipitated by the quake and thrown into the lake, where they were drowned.

Marine patrols recovered the bodies near the edge of the lake. The marines reported that other women were washing at the other side of the lake s they took the bodies out, just as if nohing had happened.

Women Leave Managua.

With their wives and children safely at Corinto where navy ships will take them to San Francisco and New York, marine corps officers have entered the task of relief and rehabilitation happy that their dependants had been spared the further horror of epidemic and hardship.

Four marine corps planes and three of the Pan American airways carried the 200 refugees to Corinto where the transport Chaumont (for San Francisco) and the U. S. S. Relief (for New York) awaited them. En route to the northern cities they will have to make some rrangements for warmer clothing since they had none here and could have carried nothing with them by plane had they possessed anything.

Sandino Calls Halt.

MEXICO CITY, April 4.—(AP)—Dr. Pedro Jose Zepeda, foreign representative of General Augustino Sandino, Nicaraguan insurgent chieftan who has combatted American marines in Nicaragua, has received a copy of Sandino's order calling off hostilities there.

The order transmitted by some grapevine source from the wilds of Segovia, where Sandino makes his headquarters, said:

"All divisions of our army will abstain until further orders from any offensive action against the enemy, no matter what strategeical advantages such action would result in.

"Our army will limit its action for the time being to maintaining its positions and repelling any attack which may be made against it, without taking advantage of any case of disorientation or panic which could lead to our triumph in all cases by the principles of rectitude, equity and patriotism."

Final Air Evacuation.

MANAGUA, April 4.—(AP)—More than a score of American women and children, the last of of those still remaining in the stricken city of Managua, were carried by air to Corinto today en route to their homes in the United States.

Among those taken were Mrs. F. B Monroe, wife of Lieut-Col. Garrett Monroe of Louisiana; Mrs. Irving A. Lindberg, of Minneapolis, wife of the American collector general of Nicaraguan customs; Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Crampton of San Francisco; Mrs. C. B. Matthews, wife of the Nicaraguan National Guard commander; Mr. and Mrs. J. S. Stanley and Mrs. Baske, widow of Lieut-Com. Hugo F. Baske of the United States navy medical corps who was among those killed in the quake.

Medical Supplies Be Sent By Airplane

WASHINGTON, April 4.—(AP)—A naval Fokker plane was standing by at the naval aircraft factory, Philadelphia, today to carry a large supply of medical stores to earthquake stricken Managua.

The navy department issued orders to Rear Admiral Lucius A. Bostwick, commanding the Philadelphia naval district, to have the plane flown to Quantico, Va., as soon as the Red Cross had loaded it with 500 cubic centimeters of antityphoid serum, 8,000 units of small pox vaccine and 20,000 tubes of chloride of lime.

At Quantico Major S Geiger of the Marine flying service, and a marine crew will take charge of the plane for a flight to Managua by way of Miami, Fla.; Cuba; Tela, Honduras, San Salvador and San Lorenzo.

At Managua the stores are to be delivered to Col. F. L. Bradman, the marine commander and the plane will then return to Philadelphia.

The plane will be flown from Philadelphia, probably today, by Lieut. Christian F. Schilt, marine aviator, with a distinguished Nicaraguan record.

The state department has made diplomatic arrangements for the plane to follow the route outlined.

Major Geiger, who will take the relief plane from Quantico to Managua, piloted one of three planes which carried relief supplies from Hampton Roads, Va., to Port-Au-Prince, Haiti, after the Santo Domingo hurricane last year.

HOUSE ADJOURNED WHILE SENATE STAYS ON LEGISLATIVE JOB

BOTH BRANCHES OF TEXAS LAWMAKING BODY ENGAGED IN MAJOR MEASURES

AUSTIN, April 4.—(AP)—The house called is legislative week's work well done and adjourned until Monday but the senate voted its second successive Saturday to consideration of its bulging calendar. Tired representatives, after the house made final disposition of the second of three major truck regulation bills, voted to rest over the week end. The senate ,although it put much work into its consideration of the $212,000,000 highway bond issue and the DeBerry ad valorem tax abolition resolutions decided to stick with the works today.

The DeBerry resolution ,a proposal to amend the constitution to permit abolition of the state ad valorem tax after January 1, 1933, fell four ballots short of the required two-thirds majority. In reality the Red River county senator needs to drum up but three more votes since Senator Pollard, absent, and paired with Senator Woodruff of Decatur today ,is an advocate of the DeBerry plan. Paired votes do not count in the final tabulation. The vote was 17 to 12.

Little more than a day was spent by the senate in debating the features of the ad valorem tax resolution. Discussions on the resolution were marked by good debate. Among those who spoke at length on the resolution were Senators Parrish of Lubbock, Woodward of Coleman, Holbrook of Galveston, Small of Wellington and Berkeley of Alpine. Small, Berkeley and Holbrook spoke in opposition to the resolution.

Under the rules governing the disposition of resolutions proposing amendments to the costitution, only a reconsideration of the vote with an order from the senate to table can prevent such resolution from being brought up from time to time.

Meanwhile the house worked under call, coming out in the afternoon for lunch only after its membership had made final disposition of its second major truck regulation bill of the week. Charges were made that the bill was fostered by the railroad companies. The final vote was 104 to 24.

As passed, the width limit of trucks was set at 96 inches, the height limit at 11 feet and the length of any single truck at 30 feet. Combined trucks and trailers would be restricted to an over-all length of 35 feet.

The bill was amended to permit trucks to carry 7,000 pounds with special premits necessary to haul loads in excess of the limit.

The Hornsby resolution proposing an amendment to the constitution to permit the holding of a constitutional convention in Austin in May 1933 failed at engrossment, the vote being 12 to 11, with six members of the senate absent.

Sandwiched between passage of 11 judicial bills and the Holbrook old age pension and the Neal crippled children survey bills was one by Senators Woodul of Houston and Williamson of San Antonio proposing to lift the ban on Sunday movie and theatrical performances in Texas.

The movie bill would permit municipalities to use the local option plan in ruling on Sabbath day shows.

Senate Passes Bill

AUSTIN, April 4.—(AP)—The senate today passed a bill by Senator Woodul of Houston which seeks to make constitutional the statutes governing the selection of special venires for capital cases The state court of criminal appeals two weeks ago reversed and remanded a case from Polk county on the ground that the method of filling the jury wheel was unconstitutional. Statutes stated the preceding federal census was to be used as a basis for ascertaining the population of counties and subsequently determining numbers of venitemen for the jury wheel.

KINGS AND COMMONERS PAY FINAL TRIBUTE TO ROCKNE; BURIED UNDER COUNCIL OAK

SOUTH BEND, April 4.—(AP)—Thousands passed the bier of Knute Rockne at his home in Sunny Mede today to say a last farewell before his body was taken to its final resting place in the HHiHghland cemetery.

They took one last glance at the sealed casket in his home and then went to the Church of the Sacred Heart on the campus of Old Notre Dame for the final services and thence to the cemetery, situated on the rolling Indiana farm hills two and one-half miles northwest of the university.

By PAUL MICKELSON
Associated Press Sports Writer

SOUTH BEND, Ind., April 4.—(AP)—The destined day for Notre Dame's man of destiny came at last today.

Knute Kenneth Rockne was to be ushered back unto earth, his final resting place, beneath the spreading boughs of Old Council Oak, which has stood majestically for more than two centuries as a silent shrine of peace to man, and by nightfall, a shrine of peace to that restless man whose genius for friendships and athletic conquests amazed a nation, even a world.

Only a few hours before the shadows of a setting sun die on the shimmering golden dome of old Notre Dame, the body of the Viking son will start on its last earthly journey of only a few short miles from his pretty little home in Sunnymede, past the black and white draped columns of the football stadium he built, then into the campus cathedral of the Church of the Sacred Heart for brief yet impressive services and thence, lastly, to his grave in Highland cemtery.

Sad Farewell to Leader

It was the day of sad farewell to Rockne. The world of sport and good fellowship mourned and their representatives were present, thousands of them from everywhere, to view his sad exit.

It was a sadder day still for six boys, who learned football and life from him on the gridiron. For these youths—Tom Conley, Tom Yarr, Marchmont Schwartz, Frank Carideo, Marty Brill and Larry Mullins—who fought shoulder to shoulder to give Rockne two national championship teams in his last two years, were to shoulder now his bronze casket to the grave.

And it was saddest of all for his widow, her four children, Rockne's 72-year-old mother and the Catholic Fathers of Notre Dame, who were caught in the fell clutch of circumstance. In keeping with Mrs. Rockne's wish for simplicity, the funeral will be short with only brief services at the church and at the grave.

Thousands Attend Rites

Thousands were in South Bend today for the last rites. Among them were persons of every walk of life. There were special representatives of King Haakon of Norway, Rockne's native heath, who came by order of his majesty fro mthe Norwegian counsel of Chicago. There was almost every football coach of distinction, who tried so often and failed to beat Rockne's Raiders on the gridiron. Almost every football player under his tutorship of 13 years, including the immortal "Four Horsemen," were on hand as were his classmates of 1914, statesmen and even hundreds who didn't know him but who had seen his name emblazoned over stories of Notre Dame victories so often that they grew to love him.

To Broadcast Services

Millions, perhaps, planned to hear the rites through radio. The Columbia Broadcasting company arranged for a national hookup for a word picture of the services, starting at 3 p. m., central standard time, and ending as the cortege rolled over the hill toward the cemetery.

Today many plans were afoot to memorialize Rockne's name but there was one certain, undeniable one.

Rockne's grave will lie beneath Old Council Oak, a gnarled tree in the center of the cemetery and just far enough off the beaten portage highway. It was under the same old oak that La Salle, the adventurous explorer, smoked the pipe of peace with the Indians two and one-half centuries ago and told them of the "greater father who controls the sun and moon the rain and snow, life and death."

Just as LaSalle spoke of the great father, Notre Dame men of the present and future some day will tell of Knute Rockne, a great man who came from the Fjords of Norway to Notre Dame and lived a new saga of human achievement.

COTONWOOD FALLS, Kas. April 4.—(AP)—Attracted by the rumor that a large sum of money may have been lost in the wreckage of the airplane which crashed Tuesday near Bazaar, Kas., killing Knute Rockne and seven others, treasure hunters last night followed in the wake of souvenir hunters who carried away many bits of the wreckage.

Guards were removed late yesterday from the scene of the tragedy and immediately the hunt for $55,000 which one of the crash victims, H. J. Christen, was reported to have withdrawn from a Chicago bank shortly before the fatal journey.

The holes in which the plane's engines had been buried were the focal points of the treasure hunting activities. These were enlarged and deepened by diggers.

QUARREL OVER SCHOOL ELECTION CAUSE OF KILLING

MABANK, April 4.—(AP)—Dempsey Reese was shot and killed instantly today in a store eight miles south of Mabank. Officers learned that a quarrel over a school election preceded the shooting. A man surrendered and was held in the Henderson county jail.

Investigators learned that Reese and another man engaged in a fight before the polls opened this morning for a school trustee election and that Reese lost some teeth. As he stooped to pick up the teeth, a man drew a gun and shot him through the heart.

Of the two tickets submitted in the election, one favored retention of Burton Hughes, principal of the Tool community school, and the other ticket opposed Hughes.

Survivors are Reese's widow and six children, one a son in the United States navy aboard the U. S. S. "Memphis."

All you need to do is bring us your ordinary seed now and we will place order same day with State Breeders association for seed selected to be shipped to you immediately at your nearest freight station, all charges to be prepaid. You can select either of the following varieties:

ACALA - KASCH - LANKART - LONE STAR - MEBANE - ROWDEN - RUSSELL OR WACONA

TAX REFORM PLAN OKLAHOMA GOVERNOR DOOMED TO FAILURE

LEGISLATURE ON THE LAST WEEK OF ITS SESSION WITH IDEAS UNCOMPLETED

OKLAHOMA CITY, April 6.—(AP)—With the thirteenth legislature in its last week, virtual failure of Gov. Murray's program of tax reform is apparent.

Scarcely a bill recommended by him has reached his desk in the exact form he desired it. His campaign plank for 50 per cent reduction of ad valorem taxes by July 1 must necessarily fall far short of realization.

Some of his major bills have been killed or drastically amended by the senate, a few by the house. From time to time he has sent messages to each house, pleading that certain bills be adopted as part of his program.

A few, notably the net income tax bill and the state tax commission measure have become law, but only one—the tax commission—in the form orginally recommended by the governor.

Employes of the gubernatorial office said the governor would ask increased income tax rates either from a special session or through a special election this summer.

If a special election is held, the colorful governor plans to take the stump in various parts of the state, while senators who have opposed higher rates than those contained in the bill passed will be equally active against what they claim to be already excessive schedules.

Gov. Murray's chief concern since he took office has been to rid the state of a six million dollar deficit, replace the depleted gross production tax and solve the problem arising from inability of the state to collect more than five per cent of the ad valorem taxes during the last year.

Lieutenant Commander Hetfield left for Corinto, seaport on the Pacific coast, by a special United States marine corps airplane at noon Sunday, leaving the surgical work which he had directed in the hands of others. No official statement has been made by Colonel F. L. Bradman, commanding marines, other than that an inquiry to develop the facts in Pigg's death was underway.

Sad Easter Sunday.

Managua spent a sad Easter Sunday. The city's churches all were destroyed in the quake which leveled the city and took 2000 lives last Tuesday but masses were said at several improvised chapels Martial law of the strictest type prevailed and to most of the 15,000 inhabitants remaining in and about Managua the day was merely another in an endless quest for food.

Relief work, taken in charge by the Red Cross, is proceeding. President Mancado has ordered that all must work at clearing the refuse and debris to get any of the food which is being distributed.

Relief Agencies Face Food Problem

WASHINGTON, April 6.—(AP)—American agencies in Nacaragua today were confronted by the problem of feeding thousands of refugees from Managua who have fled to the cities east of the

The state department made public a report from American Minister Hanna, saying relief had been requested by cities of Granada and Masaya and that food supplies had been shipped to Granada. Ernest J. Swift, directing Red Cross activities, visited those cities Saturday and found they would require relief for some time. Other cities also were expected to need help to feed the Managua refugees.

Hanna informed the department of the fatal shooting of Marine Sergeant W. H. Pigg, acting lieutenant in the Nicaragua national guard. He said preliminary investigation indicated that Pigg was demented and that in an altercation with a sergeant of the national guard he fired a number of shots and seriously wounded the sergeant before he himself was killed.

The state department still was uninformed regarding the incident between Lieutenant Commander Hetfield and President Moncado which grew out of the shooting of Sergeant Pigg.

Hanna said there had been no insurgent activity in connection with the disaster. The earthquake, the minister reported, had not affected marine and national guard operations against the insurgents.

The city of Granada has tendered Hanna the use of a residence there for a temporary American legation.

LOCAL LEGION POST GROWS RAPIDLY AND INTEREST IS HIGH

ADDITIONAL MEMBERSHIPS EXPECTED TO BE SECURED IN NEAR FUTURE

With the paid-up membership already over their quota, and with the prospects of signing an additional 100 ex-service men in the next thirty days, the Johnson-Wiggins Post No. 22 American Legion is making extensive plans for future activities, and intend to "put Corsicana and the local post upon the map," as Adjutant A. L. Springfield expressed it Monday. The present full paid-up strength of the post is 252, two over their quota, and about 30 who have signed up but who have not paid their dues in full.

The present large membership, to which the Corsicana officers and members point with pride, is a result of several intensive campaigns which increased the enrollment from 161 on March 9, to the present number. The post is now the largest post in the sixth district, of which it is a part.

Among the numerous activities planned by the post for the future, are the state convention in El Paso, Texas, August 24-26 andthe National convention in Detroit Sept. 21-22-23-24. If present plans crystalize, about 75 per cent of the local organization, including the 75 piece drum and bugle corps will attend the state convention. The drum and bugle corps will compete with other similar organizations for state honors.

As a result of a recent district meeting, the Corsicana drum and bugle corps was named official corps for the sixth district, and will attend the national convention in Detroit 75 strong at the expense of the various posts comprising this district. They plan to compete with other corps for national honors. Plans are under way for the securing of a large number of local post members to accompany the drum and bugle corps to the national convention.

port was given the following day.

Senator Parrish advised the senate this morning that he would call the resolution from the table tomorrow.

The resolution calls for an investigation into the operation of utilities in the state. The resolution charged the utilities of the state were monopolistic in their operations and that persons from all sections of Texas had protested against their rates.

A legislative committee of five members would conduct the probe.

Parrish said it seemed to be the only way to get the "low down" on utilities. He characterized the committee investigation as an "inexpensive proceedure."

It asked that the committee determine the character of the efforts of the league and the Weekly and make an investigation of the receipts and disbursements for the past six months.

The amount of taxes paid by supporters of the league and the Weekly also was ordered determined in the resolution.

It was referred to the committee on revenue and taxation for report.

No Investigation Found Necessary In This Shooting

CHICAGO, April 6.—(AP)—Most shootings are investigated by the police but that of Mr. William Cadwallander Hallison was passed by today without official investigation, due to the astuteness of Mrs. Hallison.

Mr. Hallison, who lives near a forest preserve, lay down Easter Sunday on a pile of hay in his barn, watching the meanderings of a hen and then fell fast asleep. A few moments later the hen sat down comfortably on Mr. Hallison's right ear. A few more minutes passed and there was a great hubbub as the hen called attention to a duty well done, namely the laying of a fresh egg on Mr. Hallison's ear. He smote as one would a tickling fly.

About this time Mrs. Hallison's attention was attracted by a noise.

Mr. Hallison stood clutching the doorsill. His knees seemed to be giving way and his face bore an expression of intense pain. What seemed to him to be blood was gushing over his face from the region of his right ear.

"I'm shot," he gasped.

"Yes," said Mrs HaHillison, "you are."

YOUTH GRANTED NEW TRIAL DEATH HIS SWEETHEART

from Chicago and most of it from women."

Kirkland, a 20-year-old Gary mill worker, was convicted March 10 after a trial lasting 12 days before a male jury. He was not sentenced pending decision on his petition for a new trial. Four of his companions of the liquor party are awaiting trial on charges of attacking the girl.

Judge Crumpacker named April 29 as the date for Kirkland's new trial.

Says Decision "Outrage"

Chief Deputy Prosecutor John Underwood, Jr., characterized the decision today as an "outrage." He announced to the court the state would consider dismissing the first two counts of the indictment charging murder by a blow of the fist and with a blunt instrument, and trying Kirkland on the last two counts charging murder in perpetration of a rape and while attempting perpetration of a rape.

The court said it "could not believe the defendant guilty of premeditation" because of the "bungling" method of the slaying and the fact that Kirkland immediately told the girl's relatives of her death.

Thompson Trial April 14

David Thompson, host to the liquor party, is scheduled to go on trial April 14 in Crown Point. He is expected to seek a continuance pending Kirkland's new trial.

"Kirkland was as surprised as anyone else at the girl's death," Judge Crumpacker said. "No motive has been assigned as to why the defendant should want to put her to death. There is no positive evidence that he had any thought of so doing."

The judge said in its opinion Kirkland had struck the girl with his fist and that the blow on her head was the prime cause of death. He added that "if the defendant did not intend to kill the girl, no matter how reckless his conduct was, he could not be convicted under count one of the affidavit."

"DO YOUR DUTY" GRAND JURY TOLD BY DISTRICT JUDGE

country than in others, but did not state where. The court stated that the prohibition laws were being poorly enforced, but was being enforced in Navarro county as well as in others.

Discusses Liquor Laws.

"I'd like to see the prohibition laws enforced better than they are," Judge Scarborough told the investigators.

The court stated that after the sheriff and other officers had arrested persons guilty of the violation of the prohibition laws, the grand jury had indicted them, and the county attorney had prosecuted those indicted before the court, if the petit jury turns them loose, the officers have done their duty.

"Bawdy houses," were referred to in the charge of the court and it was stated that this should be investigaed.

Gambling houses, and all ohei violations including, murder, rape burglary, theft, and arson were referred to in the charge.

Gambling Games.

In his remarks concerning the gambling statutes, Judge Scarborough told the grand jurors that he did not mean that the grand jury should investigate petty games, but that the statute meant the gambling houses. He advised the investigation body that it should leave the small games in which there might be only 50 cents involved to the constables, justices of the peace and county attorney's office, as its cost at least $75 per day for the grand jury to be in session. The court declared that in his opinion the violation of the laws against murder, rape, burglary, theft and arson were very serious matters and should be investigated to the fullest extent.

The grand jury is composed of Sam B. Jordan, Corsicana, foreman; E. B. Dawson, Dawson; R. D. McCrary, Frost; R. C. Loyd, Blooming Grove; D. T. Collins, Cryer Creek; F. L. Hulan, Kerens; John R. Carson, Clyde Rhodes, R. D. Fleming, W. P. Chrisman, F. M. Holmes and M. Evans, all of Corsicana.

FORMER SECRETARY OF INTERIOR MUST ABIDE BY VERDICT

upheld by the judgments of the lower court with the addition of costs.

Blackmer was found guilty of contempt on two charges by failing to heed a subpoena and fined $30,000 on each of the charges. The action was taken under the Walsh act permitting the government to seize property of any citizen who refused to return from abroard to testify for the government in a criminal case.

The law was attacked as unconstitutional by Blackmer's attorneys and was upheld by Justice Frederick L. Siddons in the District of Columbia supreme court.

Blackmer went abroad two years before he was summoned to appear as a government witness in the oil scandal cases and amintained that he had given up residence in the United States and had established residence in Paris.

Bonds Seized.

After the first refusal to return the government filed contempt proceedings against him and then seized $100,000 in bonds belonging to Blackmer.

The law permitted that amount to be seized as the maximum but when Blackmer was found guilty the court assessed his fine on each case at $30,000.

Upholding the constitutionality of the Walsh act permits the government to compel witnesses needed in criminal cases to return from abroad even though the witness is outside the jurisdiction of the court. Blackmer's counsel contended the was was unconstitutional because it permitted him to be tried in his absence and extended the power of the court beyond the territorial limits of the country.

Blackmer was summoned as a government witness after it was found that he as well as Sinclair had received liberty bonds in a deal through which the Continental Trading company of Canada had brought oil and resold it to comapnies which the group represented.

The government wanted to know where Sinclair got the bonds which later went to Fall, former secretary of the interior.

After Sinclair was found not guilty of conspiring with him, Fall was convicted and sentenced to one year in jail and to pay $100,000 for accepting a bribe from Edward L. Doheny.

Doheny, a wealthy oil promoter, was charged with bribing Fall to induce the secretary to give Doheny's company a lease to the Elk Hills, Cal., naval oil reserve, but he was acquitted by a jury in the District of Columbia supreme court.

Fall at His Ranch.

EL PASO, April 6.—(AP)—Albert B. Fall, former secretary of the interior, has been at his ranch, Three Rivers, in New Mexico, for several days and could not be immediately reached today for comment on the affirmation by the District of Columbia court of appeals of his sentence of one year in jail and $100,000 fine.

Informed of the court decision by the Associated Press, members of his family here wept and said they would leave immediately for the ranch to comfort Mr. Falls.

"I cant believe it," said Mrs. C. C. Chase, Fall's daughter. "My father is innocent.' Mrs. Chase and Mrs. Jouette Elliott, another daughter, said Fall had been expecting the decision for several days and had gone to the ranch for the express purpose of escaping newspapermen.

HOUSE COMMITTEE TO CONSIDER NEW SOURCES OF TAXES

AUSTIN, April 6.—(AP)—A resolution to appoint a committee of five members to investigate the feasibility of a tax on luxuries and insurance companies was adopted by the house today after extended debate.

The resolution, introduced by Representative Holder of Lancaster originally proposed inquiry into the pacrticability of a tax on cigarettes and tobacco and other luxuries including cosmetics. The amendment to investigate feasibility of a tax on insurance companies was offered by Representatives Pope of Nueces and Anderson of San Antonio.

Holder maintained additional sources of revenue were necessary if the per capita apportionment of the schools was to be maintained at $17.50. If no more revenue is forthcoming, the apportionment will be reduced to $14, Holder said.

The $17.50 apportionment was termed a "mistake" by Representative Duvall of Fort Worth, who stated that if S. M. N. Marrs, state superintendent of education had taken all matters into consideration he would never have placed the apportionment that high. Duvall charged Holder with canvassing the school teachers to bring pressure on the members to get them to support the tobacco tax. He declared the school teachers did not care about the size of the tax burdens and that the state school system should abandon the policy of "keeping up with the Jones'" and cut expenses to meet the income.

The resolution was adopted 80 to 37.

Speaking on personal privilege, Representative Harrison of El Paso took exception to statements attributed to Holder that schools in El Paso were being forced to close down. Harrison said the school system in El Paso had been forced to make large expenditures in buildings and equipment but that all time lost would be made up.

Pope and Anderson claimed domestic insurance companies in Texas were escaping with extremely small taxes and that they should be required to pay something on the enormous surpluses.

MAGNOLIA OILERS DEFEATED RICE INDEPENDENTS SUNDAY 13-3

HEAVY HITTING OF OILERS AND ERRORS BY RICE FIGURED

RICE'S SCORES CAME IN EIGHTH ON FITZGERALD'S DOUBLE

BP PAUL MOORE
Sun Sports Editor.

Combining fourteen base blows with eight miscues by the visiting players, the Magnolia Oilers Sunday afternoon defeated the Rice Independents, 13-3, on Municipal Park diamond before a small crowd. The Oilers scored in the second inning after Stover had tripled and Ballew wild throw made, and then in the fourth stanza seven tallies were pushed across to cinch the game. The three runs of the visitors came in the eighth inning when Fitzgerald doubled with the bases burdened.

A number of changes in positions were made by the visitors during the game.

Gathright hurled the first portion of the game for the Oilers and was relieved by Harris. The two Mitchell boys did the chunking for Rice.

Stover, second-sacker for the Oilers, hit two triples, while Ballew hit safely on three occasions.

Early in the game, the Rice team staged several snappy, defensive exhibitions, and a fast double play on two occasions stopped threatened rallies by the Oilers. The visitors apparently have not trained as much as the local club, and did not have their eyes on the ball.

A return game is expected to be played between the two teams in the next few weeks.

JAKE HANNA NAMED ASSISTANT COACH CORSICANA HIGH

Jake Hanna, formerly famous half-back and quarter back of Centenary college, Shreveport, and coach of the Franklin, La., high school, this year, was elected as assistant coach of the Corsicana high school Saturday, H. D. Fillers, superintendent of the city schools, announced Saturday afternoon.

Hanna was selected as all-Southern back-field timber on several teams, and was mentioned on all-American selections. He finished his football career in 1929. Franklin, La., has a large high school, there being about 5000 inhabitants in the city. He succeeds Ted L. Jeffries, also a product of Centenary college, who has resigned to become head coach of Cisco high school. Jeffries had been here two seasons.

Superintendent Fillers said the school officials and others who had met Hanna were very favorably impressed with the newly elected mentor.

Johnny A. Pierce, product of A. and M. who has been head coach here for the past six years, continues as head mentor for the Tiger eleven that went to the semi-finals in the University of Texas Interscholastic league during the 1930 campaign.

After Ruthian Laurels

By HARDIN BURNLEY

HOLDOUT bickerings over ill-grudged salary increase demands all but kept out of major league play for the coming season two of the American League's most promising newcomers. They are Ed Morgan, Cleveland first baseman, and Carl Reynolds, Chicago outfielder. Both were real sensations throughout 1930, their consistent, heavy hitting marking each as a possible logical successor to the laurels that are still Babe Ruth's.

Morgan slammed out 26 home runs last season; Reynolds topped the White Sox squad with 22. The latter player hit for .359 in 138 games; the Indian for .350 in 150. Their defensive play was on a par with their excellent batting. Ed is 26 years old and Carl, 27. Each is a six-footer and weighs between 185 and 190 pounds—model athletes in all their mental and physical faculties. Neither has reached his zenith. This year, they should approach their very best.

But when salaries questions came up for settlement a few weeks ago, both were on the point of quitting organized baseball because neither the White Sox nor the Indian cash guardians would come through satisfactorily. Finally, the differences were compromised as such disputes usually are.

So determined was Morgan's holdout gesture that Lew Fonseca, a crack first baseman until crippled by illness last season, was working out brilliantly as the Indians' initial sackman for weeks before Ed returned to the fold, still redolent from the orange blossoms of his Dixie honeymoon.

Of course, both Reynolds and Morgan received substantial increases over last season's salaries. With that and other incentives, 1931 should determine definitely whether or not either or both merits consideration in connection with the ancient shoes of the still mighty Mr. Ruth.

After all, 'twill be as easy to find a successor to the Babe as it is to find another Dempsey or Tunney. Fortunately that fact won't discourage the ambitious Morgan and Reynolds.

DIVISION OFFICES OF HUMBLE MOVING EAST TEXAS AREA

Division offices of the Humble Oil & Refining Company, located in Corsicana for the past eight years, will be moved to Tyler over the week end according to information received Friday from the offices of the company at Mildred.

New offices have been erected for the various departments on North Erwin street in Tyler, and the administrative forces will be centralized again for the first time in the past two years.

The division offices of the Humble were moved to Corsicana in 1923 from Mexia, and were housed first in the Hardy-Peck building, later moving to the second floor of the Pace building and finally to the State National Bank building. About two years ago, the offices of the company were moved to Mildred.

The engineering, and the geology and land departments, have been located at Tyler for several months, being transferred shortly after the East Texas area became prominent after the bringing in of the Elliott discovery well near Jacksonville.

The personnel of the Humble in the Corsicana district has been reduced from about 125 to 65 in the past few months, a majority of the men being transferred to the new areas.

Officials of the company said that they were loathe to leave here and that had hard surfaced roads been available, the division offices of both the production and the pipeline departments might have been maintained in Corsicana. The pipeline offices were moved to Mexia several months ago. At this time in unfavorable weather is is virtually impossible for the division superintendents to reach East Texas fields from Corsicana, while hard surfaced roads would reduce the distance to about a two-hour drive.

Officers Leaving.

Among the officials who will move to Tyler this week are A. O. Ehling, division superintendent; H. E. Potter, division petroleum engineer; A. A. Klein, division chief clerk; Miss Ruby [illegible] stenographer; W. M. Rawles, head of the engineering department, and H. J. McClelland, head of the geology and land departments have been located at Tyler some time.

District offices for the company will continue to be located at Mildred with W. F. Sutton, district superintendent in charge; O. R. Kleen as district chief clerk; B. McCormick is being transferred from Cisco to Corsicana as district petroleum engineer.

The gasoline plants and the production departments have been consolidated with Joe Miller in charge of the gas plants. W. A. Dennard will be at the head of the office staff for this group.

With the departure of the Humble company offices, all of the organizations of the major companies are removed from Corsicana, the Shell, Gulf, and Texas companies having anticipated the move several months ago.

SAN FRANCISCO, April 3.—(AP)—A new type of department store is proposed by Clarence Saunders, Tennessee capitalist.

His permit to sell stock in the Clarence Saunders Stores, Ltd., revoked recently in California, Sanders announced he would return to Memphis within two weeks to obtain private backing.

LOCAL INSURANCE AGENCY CHANGES OWNERSHIP TODAY

A deal of considerable interest in insurance circles of the city was completed Friday afternoon in which Church and Middleton purchased the Burgess, Caldwell and Jester Insurance agency and in the future the business of both agencies will be conducted in the offices of Church and Middleton in the First National Bank building.

R. A. Caldwell, one of the owners of the selling agency, will in the future, be connected with the Church and Middleton organization.

C. W. TAYLOR NAMED PRESIDENT OF LOCAL SCOTTISH RITE CLUB

MAUNDY THURSDAY CELEBRATION OBSERVED AT MASONIC TEMPLE

Celebration of Maundy Thursday was observed by the Scottish Rite Club of Navarro county Thursday night at the Masonic Hall with the annual mystic banquet, at which more than sixty members of the order were in attendance. C. W. Taylor and Sam J. Helm were the principal speakers of the evening

At the annual election of officers at the close of the meeting, the following officers were named: President, C. W. Taylor; secretary, E. R. Glover; and Chaplain, Rev. H. J. Ellis (re-elected.)

W. P. Brown, president of the Scottish Rite Club,, presided at the meeting and W P. McCamman pronounced the invocation, which was followed by the impressive ceremony of the Sacrament of the Lord's Supper. After this rite, the members of the club enjoyed a feast of barbecued lamb, roast pork, along with all the necessary accessories.

Telegram From Cochran.

At the beginning of the program, the chairman read the following greeting from Sam P. Cochran of Dallas, ranking officer of Scottish Rite bodies:

"Sam Daiches,
Secretary Scottish Rite Club,
Corsicana, Texas.

Cordial greetings and good wishes to the brethren of your Scottish Rite Club assembled for the mystic banquet. I express the hope that brotherly love and the true spirit of Scottish Rite Masonry will prevail.

Sam P. Cochran."

Mr. Brown called the attention of the club members to the fact that the invitation of the Dallas bodies to participate in a special Easter service at Fair Park stadium at 5:40 Sunday morning had been accepted by members of the Bertrand du Guesclin Commandery No. 14 Knights Templar of Corsicana, and that a special interurban would leave Corsicana at 3 o'clock Sunday morning to bear members of the commandery. An invitation was extended to members of other Masonic bodies to make the trip. Special rates have been secured.

Accounted for Absentees.

The president also accounted for absence of several of the Hebrew members of the club by the fact that Thursday was the second day of the Passover, and special services were being held in their church.

He also announced that Rev. H. J. Ellis was unable to attend the meeting because of illness. He then presented C. W. Taylor as one of the speakers of the evening

The attorney declared in his introductory remarks that he had often talked to the club on similar occasions, and that the mystic banquet was held annually, but that Masonry like the Bible, supplied a new thought and treasure each time that it was studied.

Taylor Makes Address.

He declared that the purpose of the meeting was self-examination and introspection, a time for determining what progress had been made since the last meeting; he asserted that perhaps members had progressed with their initiation but urged them to discover if they had really progressed as Masons, and if they were really worthy to partake of the sacred elements representing the paschal lamb.

Members of the club, said the speaker, met not as Hebrew and Christian but as Scottish Rite Masons, who were asking themselves if they had lived up to the responsibility to their nation, and the obligations of the various branches of Masonry.

He asserted that the occasion was sacred and not festive, and that the mystic banquet of Maundy Thursday demanded the greatest of solemnity and the rededication of the lives of the members to greater service. Better standards can be obtained only through constant endeavor said the speaker, and this should be the aim of every Mason.

"Have I been a neighbor and a brother, and done my dutv as a citizen? How have I worn the emblem? For service or profit?" were among the questions asked by Mr. Taylor during his address. He asserted that all secret organizations were based on real service.

Masonry, he declared in conclusion, will not replace religion but it will bolster a spirit of brotherhood among the members.

Sam J. Helm Speaks.

Sam J. Helm was the second speaker of the evening and described the ritual being followed in the services in the various consistories on the occasion, declaring that the observance had been aptly described as a time of reconciliation and introspection. Efforts of all Masons be asserted were based on similar desires for perfection and the consummation of brotherly love.

All modern civilization, he declared, was directly traceable to Judaism, from which is secured the basis of all modern law and culture, and all of which is centered about that great figure reverently termed "The Light of the World."

Man, asserted the speaker, first obtains all his knowledge through the five senses and through the physical part of his constitution; a little later the intellect develops and begins to temper the learning and corrects the mistakes of the physical. The past must be considered, Mr. Helm said, and while each Mason is but a tiny cog in the great organization, a single failure will result in the impedence of the progress of the whole order. He declared that the order of Masonry was not new, but that there yet remained much to be obtained.

Not Replace Religion.

There is a Master of all things that draws life's designs upon the plans and which are in turn followed by the physical and intellectual portions of man whether he wills it or not. Masonry will not replace religion but will become a very valuable adjunct.

The laws of Masonry and nature are such that when they are scrupulously followed there will result the attainment of desired ends the speaker said. Masons today are confronted with actual facts, and not phantasies and dreams.

He scored the idea of God as an avenger, pointing out that the laws of nature were just as inescapable; he also declared that it was now realized that an injury to a person hurt the perpetrator more than the person injured. All men are brothers he declared, springing from a common parentage.

Mr. Helm declared that the more the Scriptures are studied the more man is convinced of their truths, pointing out that in recent years the authenticity of many Biblican incidents tad been proved beyond the slightest doubt.

Referring to the spirit of the occasion, the speaker declared that just as in symbols in the ritual, in real life the light was extinguished but that through faith and perserverence, good was able to triumph over death, and man reaches perfection through the great trio of the physical, intellectual and the spiritual.

President Expressed Appreciation.

President Brown then extended the thanks of the club to J. A. Bonner for the preparation of the barbecue and commented upon the timeliness and also epressed thanks to Dr. T. W. Watson and Allen Edens for the preparation of the meal.

Out of town members of the club were asked to stand and were presented to members of the club living in Corsicana.

J. E. Millender of Porto Alegre, Brazil, declared that he had once prided himself upon having no sentiment but that he had changed his mind now. He asserted that if Masons were separated from their work for several years, and then permitted to return to it that they would appreciate it more; he also said that Americans would be able to appreciate their own nation more if they could see it through the eyes of foreigners. During his stay in Brazil he stated that he not once seen a Mason over-stepping the bounds of propriety and good conduct.

Traces Masonic History.

Masonry, the speaker said, was once strong and prevalent in all of the Latin Americas, and that very easily recognizable signs of Masonry had been found in the relics of Mayan civilization uncovered in Brazil, brought there by the people who came on foot from Asia to the North American continent by way of Alaska. He declared that the people of these counties knew Masons and Masonary and lived according to the principles of the order with brotherly love and helpfulness guiding their actions.

The election of officers followed.

Deputy Grand Master J. S. Callicutt was called upon for a short talk, and responded with some observations on Scottish Rite work, while the entire order depended upon the fundamental degrees.

He called attention to the fact that the order and all the worthwhile things in life were based on the realization of the presence of Almighty God, the supreme architect in every man's life.

P. Mayer Speaks.

P. Mayer, 33rd degree, and Inspector-General Honorary, briefly spoke on the early history of the Scottish Rite Club in Corsicana, and thanked the members for the present interest in the branches of the order.

President-elect Taylor then took the chair, and proposed a series of toasts to the president of the United States and those in authority, to the grand commander and all the subordinate officers, which were drunk by the members of the club. A final toast was drunk in silence to the departed brothers. The benediction was pronounced by Mr. Helm.

At the conclusion of the meeting, John C. Beck announced that the Frost lodge planned to hold an open meeting in May, and invited all Corsicana Masons to attend.

Among Those Present.

Among those attending the meeting were J. A. Bonner, Eureka; A. E. Bittner, W. A. Bittner, Jester; J. C. Beck, Frost; I. C. Summers, Navarro; J. P. Johnson, Blooming Grove; and the following from Corsicana: T. W. Watson, Sam J. Helm, W. F. Seale, Allen Edens, Sam Daiches, W. P. Brown, A. M. Redmond, E. E. Woodruff, S. T. Sterritt, W. T. ATTEMPT ABOLISH AD VALOREM TAXES DEFEATED FRIDAY

VOTE ON MEASURE WAS 17-12 WHEN PRESENTED IN TEXAS SENATE

AUSTIN, April 3.—(AP)—The DeBerry ad valorem abolition resolution failed to get a two-thirds majority in the senate today and failed at final passage. The vote was 17 to 12.

The resolution proposed an amendment to the constitution for outright repeal of the state ad-valorem tax after January 1, 1933.

Senators Beck of DeKalb, Cunningham of Abilene, DeBerry of Bogata, Gainer of Bryan, Greer of Athens, Hardin of Stephenville, Hornsby of Austin, Loy of Sherman, Martin of Hillsboro, Miss Neal of Carthage, O'Neil of Wichita Falls, Parr of Benevides, Parrish of Lubbock, Patton of Crockett, Purl of Dallas, Russek of Schulenberg and Woodward of Coleman voted for final passage.

Senators Berkeley of Alpine, Cousins of Beaumont, Holbrook of Galveston, Hopkins of Gonzales, Moore of Greenville, Poage of Waco, Rawlings of Fort Worth, Small of Wellington, Stevenson of Victoria, Thomason of Nacogdoches, Williamson of San Antonio and Woodul of Houston opposed the resolution.

Senator Woodruff of Decatur, paired with Senator Pollard of Tyler, voted against the resolution while Pollard voted for it.

Under the rules governing the disposition of proposals to amend the constitution, the resolution may be brought as many times as its author desires.

Senator DeBerry said he did not know when he would call again for a vote on the resolution.

Vote on the resolution was taken after little more than a full day of arguments on it.

Says Move Dangerous.

Senator Berkeley of Alpine said some of the senators were saying "let's repeal the ad valorem tax and trust to good luck and the Lord." He stated such procedure was not in accordance with his 25 years of training the financial world. He characterized the move to abolish the tax as "exceedingly dangerous."

Berkeley said the state should reduce its expenditures, and the people quit heaping on local taxes.

He said he saw the abolition of the state ad valorem tax as a forerunner of an income tax. He stated he was opposed to a state income tax, but was not opposing the federal tax.

Senator DeBerry charged the senator from Alpine with "blowing hot one day and cold the next." He said Berkeley charged abolition of the state tax would throw the state into the uncerain realm. DeBerry said it would actually throw the state in the "certain" realm.

DeBerry Closes Debate.

DeBerry asked the chair to determine if Senator Cousins of Beaumont spoke for or against the ad valorem resolution yesterday. Cousins asked DeBerry where he could secure $25,000,000 in taxes to replace the ad valorem tax. DeBerry stated the "senator from Beaumont knows where it will come from, that's what's hurting him."

In closing arguments on the resolution, Senator DeBerry took up its opponents in the order in which they spoke. He told Senator Small of Wellington he was not following him in opposing the bond issue, merely followig his own conviction. DeBerry stated Small voted for the bond issue two years ago "when he was young and innocent.'

He said he wanted to know how the proponents of the bond issue could talk about consistency when they said voting the bond issue would bring about tax relief and yet vote against repeal of the state ad valorem tax. DeBerry stoted the last tax survey committee reported an adequate revision of the gross receipts tax would net the state approximately $30,000,000.

Tax Repeal and Truck Regulation Still Up

AUSTIN, April 3.—(AP)—The senate turned again today to the ad valorem tax repeal resolution while the house sought to complete its study of the second of its three truck regulation bills.

The truck bill seeks to regulate the size and load capacities of trucks operating over the state highway system for hire. Final action was expected some time today.

The second of the senate's major resolutions, proposing amendments to the constitution to bring about abolition of the state ad valorem tax after Jan. 1, 1933, was brought forward for today, although its author, Senator Tom DeBerry of Bogata expressed a wish to carry it to a vote before adjournment yesterday. When he was told other senators desired to be heard on the resolution, he did not persist in calling for a vote. In addition the senate had set for special order 11 judicial council bills.

Committees held forth again last night. The Petsch utilities regulation bill came out of the house committee on state affairs unfavorably reported, eight of the committeemen polling their votes against the bill while five voted for a favorable report. Representative McGill of El Paso immediately gave notice of a minority report.

Gas Tax Bill.

Another bill to strike rough going before a committee, was the Sanders gas gross receipts tax proposal. The senate committee on state affairs accepted a substitute by Senator Small of Wellington which proposed to cut the tax rate to two per cent.

The senate committee on criminal jurisprudence reported out favorably an "anti-discrimination bill" by Senator Woodruff of Decatur. Woodruff in his bill seeks to bring about a conformity in the price of all commodities in all sections of the state.

Senator Rawlings of Fort Worth today said he would appeal to the senate to begin meeting at night in order to dispose of local and non-controversial bills now apparently lodged on the calendar. If the resolution is accepted by the senate it will begin meeting at night next week.

The house committee on revenue and taxation last night reported out favorably an intangible assets tax bill by Representive Barron of Sherman and Weinert of Seguin. The vote was 6 to 5. The Barron-Weinert bill was a substitute for the Daniels bill.

It has been reported that 1,400 Texas corporations will be affected by the bill if it becomes law and that the state will collect approximately 10,00,000 in taxes under such a law.

Senate Takes Up Hornsby Resolution

AUSTIN, April 3.—(AP)—The DeBerry resolution proposing abolition of the state ad valorem tax out of its way, the senate turned quickly to consideration of the Hornsby resolution asking that a state constitutional convention be held in Austin in May, 1933. The senate went to lunch with the Hornsby resolution pending.

The electorate would vote on the proposal during the general election in November, 1932.

The senate gave but brief consideration to a resolution by Senator Rawlings of Fort Worth wherein the body was asked to inaugurate a night schedule of meetings to begin Monday night. Only local and non-controversial bills would be brought up during the night session, under the Rawlings plan.

The resolution was sent to the committee on state affairs for further consideration.

Before taking up the DeBerry resolution, the senate passed a bill by Representative Pope of Corpus Christi which would authorize certain towns and cities to mortgage their gas, water, light and sewer systems for not more than $5,000.

The senate committee of finance gave a favorable report to a bill by Representative Sanders of Nacogdoches asking an appropriation of $12,900 to be used by the state auditor to conduct an audit of the affairs, accounts and contracts of the state highway department.

DAWSON SCHOLASTICS.

DAWSON, April 3.—B. W. Edwards, superintendent of the Dawson schools, reports that the school census of Dawson has been completed, showing 479 scholastes, 360 whites and 119 negros.

This is a reduction from last crease being shown in the number year of approximately 50, the decrease of negroes.

T. and P. Shop Workers Return To Work Friday

FORT WORTH, April 3.—(AP)—Two hundred and forty men, idle for 10 days, have been put back to work at the Texas and Pacafic railway shops. The reinstatement brings the total of shop and round house workers on the railroad here to 650.

TREASURY DEFICIT OF $700,000,000 IS BELIEVED CERTAIN

WASHINGTON, April 3.—(AP)—Additional objection to a tax increase were in the air today as the treasury prepared to raise expense money through new securities.

The expected $700,000,000 deficit grew more probable with latest treasury statements showing income tax collections for March $224,673,000 below those for last year.

At the same time house Republican Leader Tilson said he saw no necessity for a tax increase by the next congress. He added that "it should be the care of the next congress not to make necessary the levying of new taxes."

Senator Harris of Georgia, ranking democrat on the senate appropriations committee, likewise joined opponents of proposed further demands on taxpayers. He said he believed his party would cooperate to hold down appropriations at the next session.

After a conference with the president, Tilson agreed with others that no more money would be needed for operations of the farm board which he said "has failed" to stabilize prices.

The Harris forecast was that expenses can be reduced sufficiently to forestall a tax hike. He supported the view of Chairman Jones of the senate appropriations committee that bonds should not be issued to meet the deficit. Republicans, who controlled both the house and senate last session, he asserted, should get any blame there was for extravagance.

The treasury expects to issue its new securities by April 15 so the money will be available at the end of the fiscal year on June 30. Just what form the securities would take was not known. Some expressed the belief certificates of indebtedness would be employed. Besides meeting the deficit, the treasury has been asked to supply $100,000,000 more for veterans loans by April 11.

KNUTE ROCKNE—ROUGH AND READY COACH AND PSYCHOLOGIST

COACH FAMOUS FOR READY WIT, POIGNANT JESTS

(Editor's Note: This is the first of three articles depicting the human side of Knute Rockne, Notre Dame's great coach.)

By LOREN DISNEY
(Associated Press Sports Writer)

Knute Rockne has coached his last football team.

The lash of his trenchant tongue will be missing when future elevens carry the colors of Notre Dame onto the gridiron; but the legend of the greatest rough and ready psychologist the game ever knew will continue to grow.

So many are the tales of the stocky Norwegian's rich speech and shrewd manner of exacting the utmost from his famous Ramblers that the "Rock's" exploits are told and re-told wherever football is known.

Those Rockne Yarns.

A Rockne story carries an implication of quality that only the most publicized trade-mark attain. Everyone who has felt the thrill of watching a kick-off to the tune of "Cheer, Cheer for Old Notre Dame" has his particular favorite.

The yarns range from Rockne's habit of charging, in a jovial, scornful manner, a blundering linesman with "having a charley-horse between the ears" to his appeal to the team to "win one for George Gipp."

One of the latest uses of his handy wit was in answer to the numerous charges that football is being over-emphasized.

At the start of spring practice at South Bend this year Rockne assembled the several hundred boys who had turned out.

"I don't know whether we ought to have spring practice this year," he said. "It might take too much time from your drinking and necking."

Joked With Players.

Rockne always maintained close touch with his players. He made pals of them, jested with them, and greatly helped the 80-odd who now are coaching over the country.

The occasions on which repartee entered into his conversations with his players are myriad. Invariably, however, it was the player who failed to come up with the last reply.

One of the few times that one of the boys ever bettered the coach in a verbal joust grew out of Rockne's habit of buttonholing any player, whether varsity or scrub, at any time and demanding a solution to a particularly difficult problem in football strategy.

What He Would Do

A fourth string quarterback, who hadn't seen action throughout the season, was traveling with the team on one of its transcontinental jaunts. He was reading a book when Rockne passed through the train.

The coach hesitated, barked:

"The score is 6 to 9 against you, last quarter, two minutes to play, the ball's in your territory, your possession, second down, ten to go—what would you do?"

"Move over on the bench to watch the next play," the quarterback answered.

Rockne had no use for a grandstander. On one occasion he removed a player from a game who ran to a needless touchdown against a weak foe after Rockne had ordered that the Ramblers do no more scoring.

In another instance, a good Notre Dame backfield man who, however, always displayed his talent to best advantage to the gallery, found himself seated on the bench game after game. Each time he asked to go in Rock would say:

"Son, I'm saving you."

Finally one day toward the last of the season the back blurted out:

"What are you saving me for?"

"For the junior prom," Rockne replied.

Another of Rockne's practices was a word and pat on the back for each player as he came off the field. One youngster, being replaced, dashed into the showers without the pat. There he recalled he hadn't received the benediction, so back he went.

"What do you want?" asked Rock.

"I want my pat on the back.

"Get in out of the cold or I'll pat you on the head," Rockne said.

Rockne had one ace in the hole which he used only in the greatest emergencies. That was the use of the potent name of George Gipp.

Gipp was one of Notre Dame's greatest backs. He died from an infected throat just after a season's play and his last words to Rock were:

"When the going's rought against the Army, tell the boys to go out and pull it out for the Gipper."

During a particularly hard Army game, with the Irish being pushed around the field, but the Army unable to score, Rock used Gipp's words during halves.

Finally as the game neared end, Ike Vosdisch crashed over for a touchdown. As the team left the field the winner Ike hurled at Rock:

"Well, there's one for the Gipper."

Rockne smiled.

Tomorrow: The psychology Knute Rockne used against Notre Dame's opponents is revealed in another of Mr. Disney's articles.

INTIMATE POSE OF ROCKNE AND HIS SON

Here is an intimate pose of Knute Rockne taken while he was resting at Miami Beach, Fla., after a rigorous football campaign. With him was his son, John Vincent.

SPORT NOTES

By PAUL MOORE ..... Daily Sun Sports Editor

Organization of an East Texas league was perfected at a meeting held in Henderson Sunday with four clubs—Tyler, Kilgore, Henderson and Longview. It is probable that two other cities will be cought. Baseball fans at Palestine declined to enter the new league. Another meeting will be held at Longview Thursday when forfeit money will be posted and other details of the loop perfected, including plans for a schedule to open about May 1.

A considerable controversy is being waged among sport scribes of the Oil Belt, Harold Ratliff of Cleburne and Jinx Tucker of Waco concerning the prowess of Robert Wilson, Brandon of Cleburne and some of the back-field luminaries of the Oil Belt with reference to the broken field running ability of the Corsicana flash. Ratliff maintains that Brandon was as good or better than Wilson; Jinx states that Brandon might have been as good in 1929, but not as good in 1930 while the West Texans have their favorites.

Tucker says he won't say Wilson in 1930 was better than Brandon in 1929, but for 1930 Wilson was the better broken-field performer, and that Wilson was better than any of the bright lights of the Oil Belt.

Wilson has two more years of eligibility at Corsicana high school, and unless he is injured, should go down in the history of the Interscholastic league as one of the greatest halfbacks the league has produced—and the interscholastic league has produced some corking fine backs during the last decade.

John Sam Haslam, our assistant, accompanied us to Municipal park Sunday afternon for the Magnolia-Rice game.. A foul tip was hit by one of the batters, and our assistant must have been forewarned, as he declared "I bet that hit my windshield." Investigation disclosed his surmise to be correct, and a shattered windshield was added to the victims of the melee.

Jake Hanna, all-Southern halfback and mentioned as all-American calibre, coach at Franklin, La. last year, and one of the geratest backs in the illustrious history of Centenary college at Shreveport, La., has been signed as assistant coach for Corsicana high school. His election is hailed with delight in Corsicana circles as Centenary college is popular with Navarro countians. He succeeds Ted L. Jeffries, assistant coach, also a product of Centenary, who becomes head coach at Cisco high school.

Hanna favorably impressed the various sportsmen here who met him Saturday, and his acquisition is hailed with delight.. Corsicana was loath to give up Jeffries, who is one of the most popular mentors ever here, but they are glad that Hanna will take his place.

Hanna is also well-pleased with his connection here and looked over the fine material to be available next fall, and was favorably impressed.

Hanna was one of the greatest passers in the Southern circles while he was in Centenary, and a continuation of the sensational and effective aerial attack that has featured the Tiger offenses during the last couple of years is assured.

The Texas Aggies nosed out the Baylor Bears, 4-3, in a 10-inning contest Saturday to officially open the Southwestern conference baseball season. Six conference games are on tap this week, and the season will be in full swing.

Games carded this week include Baylor vs. Rice in Houston Monday; T. C. U. vs. S. M. U. in Dallas Tuesday; T. C. U. vs. A. and M. at College Station, and S. M. U. vs. Baylor at Waco, Friday; and S. M. U. vs. Texas at Austin and T. C. U. vs. Rice at Houston Saturday.

All members of the circuit will be in action this week as Arkansas does not compete in baseball. The Texas Longhorns are the perennial defending champions. Baylor was one of the preseason favorites to give the Longhorns plenty of competition, and they may do that, but the setback at the hands of the Aggies hurt their chances considerably.

The Dallas Steers and St. Paul Saints will not play their scheduled game here Tuesday afternoon as originally scheduled before the Steers broke their spring camp here.

Oscar Eckhardt Has Been Sold by Detroit

SAN FRANCISCO, Cal., April 6.—(AP)—Oscar Eckhardt, outfielder, was purchased Saturday by the San Francisco Missions from the Detroit Tigers. It will join the Coast club at once. The sale price was not announced, although it was a straight money deal. Eckhardt played with Beaumont of the Texas League last season, hitting .349 in 147 games.

DISAPPEARING FARMS

Every year of normal rainfall the United States loses $200,000,000 by soil erosion, an amount almost equal to the value of fertilizers applied annually to the soil.

Delving into this matter further, oil wastage, one finds some figures. For instance, more than half a billion tons of soil are carried out into the ocean every year by the rivers of America. This is more earth by a considerable margin than was moved in digging the Panama Canal.

According to government figures, fully 10,000,000 acres of once fertile land, more than the combined areas of Maryland and Delaware, have been made barren by water running over slopes stripped of their protective vegetation.

Earth washed into the ocean, river beds and swamps is rich top soil, without which no crop can have healthy growth. Geologists estimate that nearly half of Louisiana once lay hundreds of miles up the Mississippi Valley and its tributaries as the fertile top soil of thousands of thousands of acres of good farming land.

The United States is letting its soil deteriorate through wasteful processes, and failure to protect fields from erosion is one of the most wasteful. Still rich in virgin soil, the country has not awakened to the danger threatening its arable lands.

Reforestation, flood control, regulated grazing and careful farming methods will save the soil and save the tillers of the soil much worry and money.

PROMISES AND REALIZATION

Standing in awe before the billion-dollar corporations which are the achievements of this era of wonders, one is apt to forget that one multi-billon dollar corporation, the United States government.

This year the federal government is spending $10,000,000,000. For a single day recently its treasury turnover was $3,000,000,000.

To operate this vast business 900,000 employes are necessary. Their "plant" covers an area of 3,738,371 square miles, while the agricultural "department" alone requires 2,000,000,000 acres.

Directly or indirectly this corporation is guardian for 120,000,000 people, having a combined wealth of $360,000,000,000 and an annual income of $80,000,000,000, foreign securities valued at $16,000,000,000, diamonds costing $4,000,000,000 and automobiles costing $14,000,000,000 a year.

The president is the executive of this huge corporation, and congress is the board of directors. They have a big job on their hands and that they make mistakes is not to be wondered at. Moreover, they have more stockholders to answer to, and those stockholders are more insistent on results and least patient with delays and failures. But if they seem to demand more than it is humanly possible to give them the fault rests with the spellbinders who have promised more than they can give.

A federal law is one passed by congress, signed by the president, and modified by the judge to fit the sympathies of his locality.

A man may be down, but he is not out until he is down in the mouth.

There may be safety in numbers, but not in auto numbers.

JUST FOLKS

AT THE END.

In spite of the burdens that trouble all,
In spite of life's sorrow and anguish and care
There is always some glorius day to recall,
There is always remembrance of all happiness rare.
However we grumble at life we still own
Some memories pleasant we're glad to have known.

Something of life has been tender and sweet;
Some friends we've loved have been gentle and true;
In spite of the trials we all have to meet,
In spite of the difficult tasks we must do,
Still something of beauty and splendor remains
To comfort the heartaches and pay for the pains.

We mourn in our sorrow and whimper at care.
We fret through a trouble and frequently sigh;
We doubt the good Lord in our days of despair
As if never His sun had been seen in the sky.
But always we find we have memories glad,
Built out of the friendship and joys we hove had.

FAILURE OF THE FARM BOARD.

Reorganization of the federal farm board and the introduction of new blood direct from the farm do not guarantee speedy and absolute solution of the farmers' problems, but they will clear away some of the fog now obscuring the situation.

The appointment of Sam H. Thompson, president of the American Farm Bureau Federation and a dirt-farmer, as a member of the board places the head of the nation's largest farm organization in position to help relieve the agrarian ills. It accomplishes much in merely reducing the gap between the board and the farmers. Sympathy and understanding can no longer be said to be lacking.

As now constituted, the board represents the best thought in agriculture and financing and is the spokesman of those to whose aid it has gone. Failure now will leave no doubt as to where the fault lies as between the system and the administration.

Failure of the new board to solve the difficulty, if it fails, may stimulate the farmers to a more profound consideration of the basic ills of their industry. At least, they will know what to expect from Washington.

MARRIED TEACHERS.

The problem of married women teachers in the public schools is one that has long baffled school directors everywhere. It is not easy to solve for the reason that it involves the economic status of a considerable group of workers, who also happen to be voters and taxpayers.

Discrimination against the married teacher can be unfair and unnecessarily prejudicial. When marriage disqualifies a capable teacher that employment may be given an inferior unmarried teacher, the discrimination becomes unfair and prejudicial.

In selecting teachers boards ought to give first consideration to the teaching ability and experience of the applicants. All other things being equal, a board might with justice give the job to the unmarried applicant in preference to the applicant with a husband to contribute to her support. But there is no wisdom in a hard and fast rule which fills the schools with incompetent girl teachers and closes the schools to trained instructors.

The argument of outside interests that interfere with teaching works both ways. With the fair sex, distractions are not limited to either the pre or the post-nuptial state. Here the determining factor is the individual.

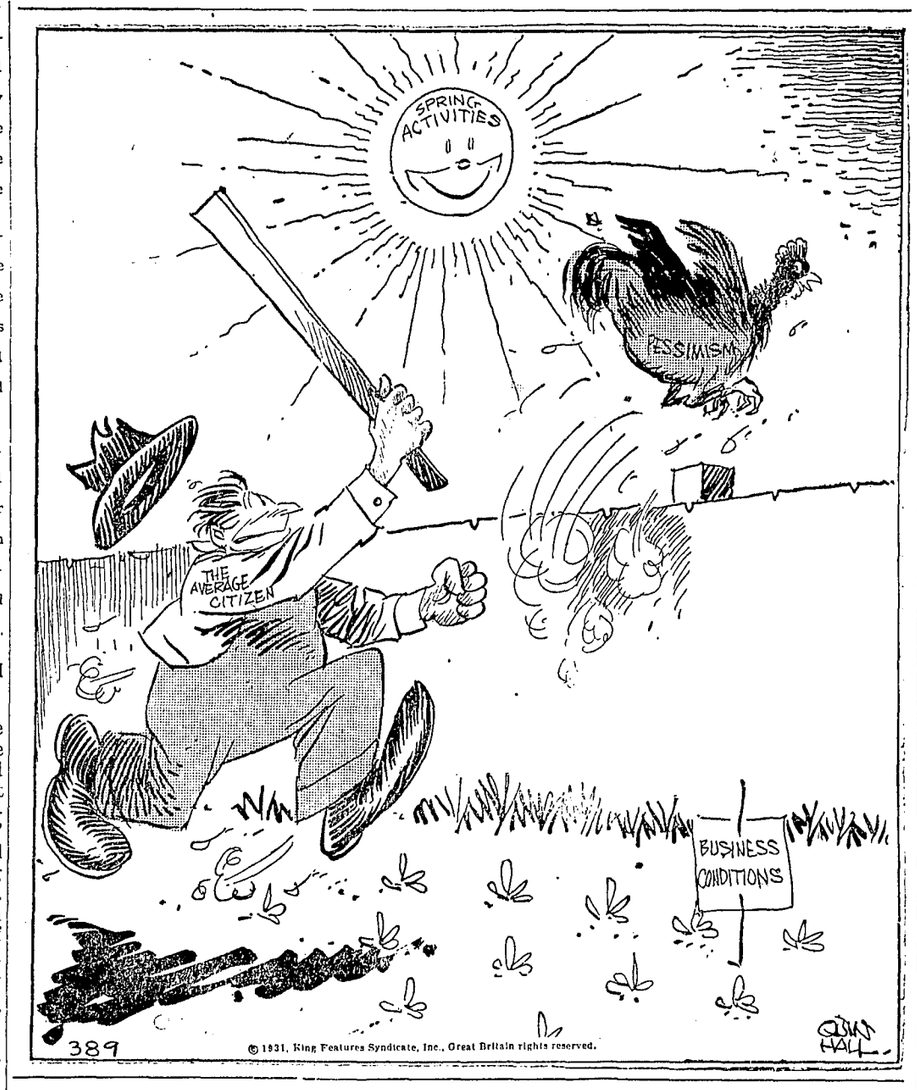

If you never say college men are silly incompetents, nobody will suspect you missed a college education.

Hard times have their faults, but nobody takes you six miles out to a cow pasture to sell you a lot.

A curious relic is the man who requests an answer or remittance "by return of mail."

Very few of the autos left at home in a bright Sunday afternoon are able to run at all.

PROTECTING THIS YEAR'S CROP

SAFETY FIRST CAMPAIGN SHOWS RESULTS.

During 1930 ten states conducted Save-A-Life motor vehicle inspection campaigns. Close to 3,500,000 cars were examined as to brakes, lights, horns, steering mechanism and the like. More than a million of these had defective brakes, 2,000,000 had unsafe headlights, 219,000 had defective steering, and thousands more had other defects of smaller importance. The faulty equipment was corrected, with the result that during the month in which the campaign took place and the month following most of the states enjoyed a decrease in accidents.

The value of inspections, like the value of laws requiring examination of drivers, is not open to doubt. There is every reason to believe that a large proportion of automobiles using the highways are defective, and that brakes, steering or lights might fail in an emergency.

It may be that the most hopeful sign in the automobile accident firmament at present is the vast amount of scientific attention being given the problem. The entire nation is observing those states which, in spite of a rising national accident record, are reducing fatalities and injuries. The near future should bring us a long way toward solving the highway accident problem.

VIEWPOINTS.

When you were eighteen years old you were a man, but you were very much an animal. How sweetly your muscles functioned. You could run and jump and wrestle and box with the best of them, and you delighted in your physical development. You were a pagan. You hungered for adventure. And when a fellow mortal displeased you greatly you said: "I'd like to have one good smash at his mouth—just one. I'd knock it around to where he could bite himself on the neck."

As the years passed you lost illusions, teeth, hair and vigor, but you retained your intolerance of opposition. You slowed up. Random pains began to afflict you for no particular reason. At times you had a touch of rheumatism. Perhaps you developed a paunch. At any rate, you lost pride in body and gained pride in mind, with the result that you lost that desire to shoot a right into the jaw of those who displeased you. You learned a more civilized method of warfare. And you said: "I'd like to get him in a tight place and break him. I'd smash his business so flat he couldn't borrow car fare to the poorhouse." This was at forty

How quickly the years pass after forty! You glance away from the calendar and work for just a little while, and then you look back again and you are fifty. Half a century gone! And so many enthusiasms, ambitions, frenzies and intolerances are gone! You have acquired patience and humility. Many failures and much sorrow have taught you wisdom and sympathy. And you say of one who has displeased you: "Poor chap! Stupid and blind! A poor, weak mortal—forever frenzied by the insignificant."

Nerve is a funny thing. You never lose it except when you need it most.

MONEY IN THE BANK.

"A national bank call as of March 25th reveals the fact that bank deposits in Texas cities made rather significant gains in the past year," it is pointed out by The Editorial Digest, Houston, which continues as follows:

"At Houston, for instance, there is deposited in the banks more than $500 for every man, woman and child living in the city. (The deposits exceed $168,000,000 and Houston's population is now reckoned to have soared beyond the 300,000 mark.)

"To some people, this fact may prove comforting. Upon others, however, it produces an effect somewhat comparable to the one obtained by waving a red flag in front of an irate bull.

"The facts of the case are, of course, that a lot of these Houston deposits are credited to correspondent banks in smaller cities. Another considerable portion of this deposited wealth answered "Here!" only when the check is signed by one of a relatively small group of local capitalists. The people are not nearly so prosperous as the figures would indicate.

"Enormous sums of money in the banks can mean good times only when it is widely distributed. If it be hoarded, or if it doesn't change hands, then it simply means that there is a great deal of unemployment and not a little suffering.

"Less money in the banks and more of it in the pockets of Texas carpenters, stone-masons, machinists, steel-workers and ditch-diggers—that's what is needed now. The figures show we've been through an extended pericd of cautious saving and hoarding. Now it's time to cut loose and go on a spending spree. Let's get prosperous."

A HOSPITAL INNOVATION.

"White collar" hospitals are being built in a number of the larger cities as the answer to the question of hospitalization of that large class whose members will not accept charity and are financially unable to take advantage of the best in hospital care, medicine and surgery.

These middle class wings or hospitals will command the best surgeons and specialists at moderate fees and furnish the best and most advanced hospital treatment at compromise fees, also. Boston's "white-collar hospital" limits the surgeon's fee to $150 for the most difficult operation.

It is not a question of society owing this to the millions of better class wage earners and small-salaried persons, but a question of meeting a demand which may prove profitable by mass-production methods and of good public policy.

Hospitals for the thinpurse class have the opportunity of prolonging the productive periods of thousands of men and women and of preventing the self-supporting from becoming dependent upon their families or society. Thousands of human derelicts and penniless invalids would be self-supporting members of society today had the best in surgical and hospital attention been within their reach in the past.

"White-collar hospitals" need not necessarily be a luxury to general hospitals, since the full utilization of facilities reduces the cost per patient. This work is even within the reach of the small hospital where a surplus of facilities exists. But this is not so much a problem of the smaller community as of the big city.

It is interesting to know that still another new planet has been discovered, but astronomers could put their time to better use discovering new markets for wheat and automobiles.

POPULAR BAKERY UNDERGOES SPRING DECORATIVE SCHEME

Presenting the ultimate note in modernistic design, the Collin Street Bakery is proudly displaying a new interior decorative scheme, while the outside of the building is receiving similar treatment as rapidly as possible.

The sales room of the bakery has been attractively finished in a color scheme of silver and black in startling affectiveness. The walls are finished in an orange silver tone, while the ceilings are silvered. All of the fixtures have been finished in a gloss black with silver trim.

Lighting fixtures are modernistic in design with subdued light from the sides and top, and prism reflectors presenting numerous effects from the bottoms. The floors are finished in two tones of gray with black striping.

The exterior of the building is now receiving a coat of aluminum paint that will be completed with black trimming to match the interior of he store. W. T. McElwee, president of the company, is personally supervising the changes and expects to have one of the most attractive bakeries in Central Texas when the improvements are completed.

IN MEMORY OF MRS. MAE McNEILL

Mrs. Mae McNeill, who died at her home March 13, 1931.

She was the wife of Tom McNeill. She was ill for some time. Yet we know not what the dear one suffered but God knows best so he called his darling home to rest.

She was loved by all who knew her. How we will miss her pleasant face and sunny smiles.

She belonged to the Baptist church and lived a faithful life until God called her home to join his happy band.

She leaves a husband, mother, three children, four brothers, four sisters, and a host of other relatives and friends to mourn her loss.

We know that it is hard to give her up, but live a life to meet dear Mae and mother on heaven's shining shore where all is happiness and rejoicing around the great white throne.

May God bless each and every one of you in your hours of trouble, for we know that youu will miss her in your sad and lonely home. When you are gathered around the family fireside, how dreary it will seem for there is no wife and mother to fill her chair. Just think of our dear Saviour Who prepared a place for us, and if you will live a life to meet her you shall see her smiling face.

Thy hast gone our precious darling
Never more can thy return.
Gone to live with Christ for ever
In that bright and happy home.

But one thought our heart will gladden,
We shall meet again some day.
There are our griefs are passed;
There all our sorrows end.

Will gain a peaceful rest at last
with Jesus our Friend,
No slightest touch of pain, or
sorrow least alloy,
Can violate our rest or strain, our purity of joy.

In that eternal home, no clouds or tempest rise;
There gushing tears are wiped away
Forever from our eyes.
And we shall know our mother
there.

Written by ones that loved her,

COUNTY TRACTOR TAMPERED WITH IN EMHOUSE DISTRICT

George W. Boyd, county commissioner for precinct 1, is confronted with a difficult problem, and was not in the best of humor Friday morning.

Commissioner Boyd reported that the large tractor and grader in use on roads in the Emhouse vicinity have been tampered with on three occasions recently,—the gas line on the tractor being cut, etc.

No information has been secured as to who the guilty party or parties are. All gasoline is brought back to Corsicana at night by the workers and the commissioner is at a loss what to do, as the outfit is for use in that community, and when it is damaged, considerable expense and loss of time results. The outfit is left on the side of the road as is the custom over the county, as it is impossible to bring it back to Corsicana each night.

Teague to Be Well Represented Waco Declamation Meet

TEAGUE, April 3.—(Spl.)—Teague High School will be capably represented in the senior divisions of declamation in the District Interscholastic League meet which will be held in Waco.

This is the second year in succession that Miss Clara Stringer has won premier honors in the county and her second year to represent Teague school in the district meet.

Walter Kerr started out several years ago in the junior boys' division, and after having won that for a time or two he entered the senior boys' division. He has won first in this division in the county in 1929, 1920, and 1931. In 1929 Walter won second at the district meet, while in 1930 he won the district championship at Waco and represented Teague high school in the state meet at Austin.

Mr. Kerr is an excellent speaker and has a wonderful chance of being among the declaimers again at the state meet in Austin.

Boatwright said the truck contained 150 ounces of morphine in one-ounce cans. It came by train from New York on a baggage check, such as any purchaser of a railroad ticket is entitled to. The seizure was made by Boatwright and J. W. Hitt, city police officer in charge of narcotic law enforcement.

PAIN after eating

WHAT many call "indigestion" is very often nothing but excess acid in the stomach. The stomach nerves have been over-stimulated, and food sours. The corrective is an alkali, which neutralizes acids instantly. The best alkali known to medical science is Phillips' Milk of Magnesia. It has remained the standard anti-acid with physicians in the 50 years since its invention.

One spoonful of this harmless, tasteless alkali will neutralize instantly many times as much acid, and the symptoms disappear at once. You will never use crude methods when once you learn the efficiency of this more pleasant way. A small bottle is sufficient to show its merit.

Be sure to get genuine Phillips' Milk of Magnesia prescribed by physicians for more than 50 years in correcting excess acid. 25c and 50c a bottle; any drugstore. Complete directions for its many uses are enclosed with every bottle.

The Genuine Milk of Magnesia is always a liquid—never a tablet. Look for the Phillips' name on bottle.

EAST TEXAS FIELD ALLOWABLE PLACED AT 90,000 BARRELS

RAIL COMMISSION ISSUED PRORATION ORDER LATE FRIDAY; COURT DECIDE

AUSTIN, April 4.—(AP)—The Wichita Falls area will be permitted to produce 63,000 barrels daily under additional proration figures announced today by the railroad commission. The present allowable was 58,-144 barrels.

Production in the West Central Texas area will be limited to 33,-500 barrels under a second order. The allowable under the old order in this district was 25,000 barrels.

The increase in the allowable in these areas was made to care for marginal well production, all wells under a six barrel capacity being exempted from proration.

Figures for the Wichita Falls and West Central Texas areas make up the allowable production of 691,981 barrels.

All orders except the one prorating East Texas were effective immediately. The East Texas order will be effective April 10, R. D. Parker, chief of the oil and gas division of the railroad commission, saying this amount of time was necessary to permit East Texas to set up its proration machinery and name its umpires The old proration order expired at midnight Tuesday.

AUSTIN, April 4.—(AP)—The railroad flung its delayed proration challenge to East Texas late yesterday and citizens of that new oil section moved quickly toward acceptance of that challenge.

The commission determined to prorate the new East Texas field, starting April 10. The production would start at 90,000 barrels daily, increasing gradually to 130,000. The order would expire July 1.

Dan Moody, chief counsel and Carl Estes, secretary of the East Texas Lease, Royalty and Producers' association, immediately communicated with the "folks back home" with the result that Moody started preparing an injunction petition before the day was over.

Moody will attempt to have one of the district courts here enjoin the railroad commission from enforcing its order. He contended proration was unconstitutional and a violation of the anti-trust laws because it sought to fix the price rather than prevent waste.

The exact figure for the North and the West Central Texas districts had not been set but R. D. Parker, chief of the commission's oil and gas division, said the statewide figure would be around 690,000 barrels, increasing to about 740,000 by July 1.

Other Fields Figures

Outside of East Texas, whose allowable was materially increased, the figures were similar to those recommended at the hearing last week by the central proration committee. The commission did not cut the Big Lake figure of 20,000 as recommended by the committee but it followed the committee's suggestion in reducing the Yates field from 89,500 to 70,000.

The figures, other than East Texas, follow:

Panhandle 37,000; West Texas 213,431; East Central, 52,250 (to be increased 5000 barrels at Van May 1 and June 1); Southwest 63,000; Gulf Coast 140,000. That left about 95,000 for the West Central and North Texas areas.

East Texas was ordered increased as follows:

To 95,000 May 1; 106,500 May 15; 118,000 June 1 and 130,000 June 15.

Stripper Wells Expected

Trying to save the stripper wells from abandonment as a result of present low prices the commission decided not to prorate wells in the West Central and North Texas districts producing six barrels or less daily.

The proration order had been expected since Tuesday but the commission had delayed action, presumably in an effort to arrive at a figure satisfactory to East Texas. The commission issued the order after an executive session of nearly three hours yesterday.

The old statewide figure was 643,000 barrels daily, exclusive of East Texas, which had not been prorated. The present production in the new area is considerably more than 100,000 barrels.

MAYOR WALKER IS BACK TO FIGHT HIS CRITICS IN PERSON

NEW YORK, April 6.—(AP)—Mayor Walker was back home today to begin his counter-attack on the critics of his administration.

Tanned and energetic, he returned yesterday from his vacation, in California and spent the day resting at his apartment. He saw only a few friends but those who talked with him were convinced that he intends to strike back vigorously and quickly.

Two immediate tasks confront the mayor. First he must draft a reply to the charges filed against him with Governor Roosevelt by the city affairs committee. The material on which the answer will be based was assembled during his absence by his assistant, Charles F. Kerrigan. The second problem involves the reorganization of some of the city's departments, a reorganization which anticipates an investigation of the city government by a committee of the legislature.

In line with Tammany's decision not to stage a demonstration, Police Commissioner Mulrooney and Tomas F. McAndrews, secretary to the mayor, were the only officials of rank to extend welcome when the mayor arrived home.

KING GEORGE IS KEPT INDOORS BY COLD AND WEATHER

LONDON, April 6.—(AP)—Inconvenienced by a slight cold, King George is remaining in the royal apartments at Windsor for the present in order to miminize likelihood of complications during one of the nastiest Easter seasons England has known in recent years.

Indicative of the lightness with which the monarch's illness is regarded, his physician decided not to issue a bulletin regarding his condition. He is being attended by one of the nurses who took him through his serious illness of two years by one of the nurses who took him through his serious illness of two years ago but one or more of these has been attached to the court since that time and no significance is attached to her present care.

His majesty remained up and about most of Easter Sunday but did not attend the services in the castle chapel which would have involved a walk through the drafty unheated corridors and passages of the old building.

Since the almost fatal illness which resulted from the king's standing bareheaded in the bad weather at the Armistice day celebration of 1928 every effort has been made to miminize the exposure to which he is subjected. Although fully recovered from that illness another bronchial attack would put a severe strain upon his physique.

His majesty was but one who remained shut in over Easter. Intermittent squalls kept many subjects, sounded physically than there monarch, at their firesides. The customary parade of Easter toggery and doggery were shunned and, two hardy slickered bobbies alone parade Hyde park's famous stretches.

HAVE FINE BOY.

Easter Sunday was ushered into the home of Mr. and Mrs. O. E. Scarborough by the arrival of a fine, eight and one half pound boy born to them at the Navarro clinic, where the proud parents are receiving the heartiest congratulations of their many friends here. The little fellow has been named Orin E. Scarborough, Jr. Both the baby and mother are resting nicely.

Hawkins Scarborough, district judge, spent several days last week in Mineral Wells.

MAHATMA GANDHI WILL REPRESENT INDIA IN PERSON

By JAMES A. MILLS

NEW DELHI, April 6.—(AP)—Mahatma Gandhi has decided to dispense with the aid of erstwhile colleagues at the forthcoming round table conference at London and will represent the nationalist cause there by himself.

His decision has taken India and the Indian government entirely by surprise and has added fuel to the flame of his critics who have complained increasingly recently that he was assuming the role of a dictator of the nationalist movement.

It was Gandhi's first intention to take twelve persons with him to England for the round table conference, at which a future constitution for India is likely to reach well rounded form, instead of the fifteen delegates to which the all India national congress is entitled.

Last week he whittled the number who would go to five, explaining that more would make an unwieldy group. Since then he has informed his congress coworkers that since he had so much success as sole nationalist representative in dealing with Viceroy Irwin in connection with the recent truce ending the civil disobedience campaign, he might repeat his success at London.

Moreover, he has argued, his hand would be strengthened at the second round table conference if most of the nationalist cabinet, or working committee, remained in India to carry on the congress program, thus convincing the British government that the independence movement has come to stay and would increase in strength despite his absence.

He also has pointed out that this second round table conference will deal only in fundamentals and that the usual doctrine of strength in numbers will not hold since there is no question of a majority vote.

MURRAY ATTEMPTS UNLOAD TROUBLES BEFORE PRESIDENT

WASHINGTON, April 6.—(AP)—Cicero I. Murray, chairman of the oil states advisory committee, fought today to lay before President Hoover the plans of his group for remedying the distressed condition of the oil industry.

Before calling at the White House, the Oklahoman discussed with Secretary Wilbur, chairman of the federal oil conservation board, the program which his group will perfect in sessions here today and tomorrow.

The sessions of the committee will be closed, with only the representatives of the ten oil states and invited experts in attendance. Thursday the group will formally lay its plans for an oil states compact before the conservation board at an apen hearing

Murray said today a misapprehension existed regarding the price fixing proposals of his group. He said the ten state committee merely would seek the power to advise purchasers of crude oil what the fair price of petroleum should be in each producing district.

It would be up to the companies to place such prices in effect. Also he said, the comimttee would give advice on the fair price of gasoline.

The public. Murray added, will not be required to bear the burden of stabilizing crude oil proces at a fair level. He contended there was no direct relationship at this time between gasoline and crude prices.

Popular Fairfield Girl Weds Teague Man On Saturday

FAIRFIELD, April 6.—(Spl.)—Miss Lillian Elliott, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. S. Elliott of Fairfield, and J. D. Petty, son of Mr. and Mrs. G. C. Petty of Teague, were married Saturday evening at 6:30 o'clock at the home of the Rev. E. Homer Tirey, pastor of the First Baptist church of Teague, in a quiet ceremony. Rev. Tirey officiated at the wedding, and attendants were Misses Mary Vernon Huckaby and Mary Tillie Kirgan of Fairfield, and Messrs. Arthur Boldin of Purdon and Jordan Howard of Corsicana.

Immediately after the ceremony Mr. and Mrs. Petty left for Waco and after a few days there, returned to Fairfield.

CONGRESS LEADERS NOT FAVORABLE TO INCREASING TAXES

PROPOSAL SENATOR BINGHAM FOR BLANKET TAX INCREASE OPPOSED

WASHINGTON, April 6.—(AP)—Fractional leaders of congress looked with little favor on the proposal of Senator Bingham that income taxes be increased and extended to curb governmental extravagance.

The Connecticut republican no sooner had made his statement favoring a blanket increase in levees and an extension to smaller incomes than responsible members of both the senate and house objected.

Senator Watson of Indiana—the republican floor leader—said:

"I am opposed to any further taxation because I don't think it is necessary under existing conditions."

Senator Norris of Nebraska, an independent republican leader, asserted that while he would not object to a hike if the expected $700,000,000 deficit materialized, "the increase should be applied in inheritance taxes and on the higher brackets, or larger incomes."

Senator Harris of Georgia, ranking democrat on the senate appropriations committee, said:

"I am opposed to Senator Bingham's plan in to to."

Representative Laguardia of New York, a house independent leader, predicted there would be an increase, but added:

"There will be no lowering of the present tax exemption and that is just as certain as day follows night. The tax increases in the next congress will be such that Senator Bingham and his half dozen in the senate surely will vote against."

Caused By Deficit.

Bingham's proposal was the first in discussions of the approaching $700,000,000 deficit to suggest tax demands be made on smaller incomes. Some legislators have said they would favor increasing the levies on bigger incomes while leaders of both parties and in both houses have insisted greater taxes will not be necessary.

Others have admitted that any agitation for a tax increase at the next session would be embarrassing to both parties because of the economic situation and the approaching presidential election.

President Hoover believes an increase will not be necessary if congress restrict appropriations. Republican Leader Tilson if the house thinks an increase is not now needed and should not become mandatory.

Members of both major parties have promises to co-operate to keep down expenditures at the next session, thus eliminating a need for more money

NEW REVOLUTION GAINS FOOTHOLD IN VENEZUELA

BOGOTA, Colombia, April 6.—(AP)—A Venezuelan revolutionary movement, apparently authentic reports said, has gained a foothold on the western frontier.

El Tiempo, Bogota daily, published a report from Arauco, Colombia, which stated that General Arevalo Cedeno, had led a successful attack against Guasdualito, village just across the border from Arauco. Many government soldiers were said to have been wounded and horses and arms were taken by the insurgents whose leader styles himself, "Chief of the Venezuelan Revolutionary Forces."

General Cedeno, who three times before has failed in a revolutionary attempt, announced he would gather forces for a march across mountain and marsh to Caracas to unseat President Bautista and General Juan Vincente Gomez, secretary of war and Venezuela's strong man.

His Venezuelan government in the past has denounced Cedeno's operations as cattle thievery.

Santa Fe President Sees Good Prospects

NEW YORK, April 6.—(AP)—W. B. Storey, president of the A. T. & S. F. Railway company, who has just returned from a four weeks' inspection tour of the lines, said today crop conditions in Santa Fe territory were as good as he had ever seen them and that he had never known prospects to be better.

"We will have a normal volume of fruit traffic from California this year," Mr. Storey asserted. "Last year, because of the short citrus fruit crops, our revenues from this source wee below normal.

Mr. Storey said Atchison was continuing its capital improvement program for which it had ample funds. At the end of March the company's cash and government securities account approximated $64,000,000.

Death Stalked Aboard Steamship

PHILADELPHIA, April 6.—(AP)—Police summoned by the captain of the steamer Helen, lying in midstream in the Deleware river, today took from the freighter two dead seamen and one wounded man. It was reported to the police that one of the seamen shot two of the crew and then killed himself. The wounded man was taken to a hospital.

The Helen arrived here April 1 from Porto Rico laden with sugar.

Three Amarillo Girls Are Missing

AMARILLO, April 6.—(AP)—Three young Amarillo girls for whom police had been seeking as runaways from home, were reported seen this morning, walking on a highway near Shamrock, Texas. They were said to have been going eastward.

A telephone call to Shamrock sent a deputy sheriff out in search of the girls.

Raids Without Warrants Scored By Federal Judge

FORT WORTH, April 6.—(AP)—Liquor charges against Sam Hoover, one of about 100 persons arrested here Saturday night in raids on more than a score of places by state rangers and city and county officers were dismissed by Federal judge James C. Wilson today. Judge Wilson said he would "dismiss every case of that kind brought into this court."

HUGE ENDOWMENT FOR PROMOTION OF GOODWILL GIVEN

READING MERCHANT GIVES BIG SUM FOR ANGLO-GERMAN RELATIONS

NEW YORK, April 6.—(AP)—Gustave Oberlaender of Reading, Pa., an imigrant who earned only $7 a week when he was a clerk in a New York bookstore 42 years ago, has established a fund of $1,000,000 to promote goodwill between the United States and Germany, his homeland.

The gift is announced by the Carl Schurz Memorial foundation which, with a board of directors including Mr. Oberlaender, will administer the fund. The money will be distributed over a period of 25 years among adults who wish to study in Germany, who have an interest in international afafirs and "are qualified to interpret their findings to the American people."

Mr. Oberlaender, at one time a manufacturer of knitted wear, retired from business several years ago. Yesterday at his home in Reading he explained the reason for the fund.

"I've come to the conclusion," he said, "that I want to dispose of my money while I am living. This endowment will be followed by others the nature of which I am unable to tell because I haven't definitely made up my mind what they will be."

Although the money for the fund came from Mr. Oberlaender, it was presented to the Schurz foundation through the Wyomissing Foundation, which is composed of Mr. Oberlaender, Ferdinand Thun and Henry Janssen. Each has contributed large sums to Wyomissing, and any one member's request for a gift is respected by the others. In this way, while the foundation is maintained jointly, each member's donation is used in the manner he desires.

Only students in the field of public health and welfare, old age insurance, race relations, music, art, or kindred subjects will be eligible to share in the fund.

"I don't know what the endowment will actually do," he said, "but I have hopes that it will do much."

HOME RULE PLAN IS SUGGESTED FOR DEMOCRAT PLANK

WASHINGTON, April 6.—(AP)—Another suggestion that Democrats avoid straddling and adopt a definite 1932 platform on controversial subjects—including prohibition—was before that party today in a letter from Chairman Raskob of the national committee.

He asked each national committeeman to make individual recommendations for the 1932 platform and give "particular" attention to prohibition.

Once more he advanced his home rule plan as what he believes to be a solution of liquor questions. Then, answering accusations that he was attempting to dictate to the party, he realized that the last Democratic convention charged the national committee of which he is chairman, with making "recommendations of policies or procedure for the consideration of the convention."

It was with this instruction in mind, he said, that he called the recent national committee meeting at which he advanced the home rule plan and other suggestions.

"Whether we like it or not," he wrote, "prohibition is a critical question in many of our states."

The voters, he asserted, will support the party "whose policies and conduct appeal to them as being sincere, honest, courageous, best guaranteeing the preservation of our Democracy and promoting freedom and happiness as against a life of tyranny and strife."

Admitting a difference between the "dry attitude of the party in the South" and the "liberal attitude of the party in the North," he said prohibition is, perhaps, a "dangerous complication."

"How silly it must be for the Democratic party to disregard the prohibition issue because of its proposed peril."

His home rule plan—which would call for retention of the Eighteenth amendment but adoption of another constitutional change, giving states control of liquor—is, to his mind, probably the best solution, he said, but added: "Perhaps some of you may have a better solution."

INFORMAL REPORT BLAMES ICE FOR CRASH OF PLANE

DEPARTMENT COMMERCE INSPECTORS CONTINUING PROBE OF TRAGEDY

By OSCAR LEIDING
Associated Press Aviation Edior.

WASHINGTON, April 3.—(AP)—A small piece of ice may have sent America's most famous coach, Knute Rockne, and seven others to death in Tuesday's airplane crash.

Findings of department of commerce investigators, made known in a statement last night, showed the death plane may have fallen with a wing section rent asunder by vibration after ice shattered a propeller blade.

The right outboard engine, on the side of the broken wing, was found with its three propeller blades and hub missing though the safety nut normally holding them in place remained on the end of the crankshaft.

"Investigators were advised," the statement said, "that ice had collected on the entering fdge of the wing and it is assumed that ice had also collected around the propeller hub.

Ice Broke Propeller.

"It is possible that a substantial piece of ice may have broken loose from the hub and had been struck by one of the propeller blades, resulting in its breakage.

"The resultant shock to the entire structure was probably transmitted through the brace struts which extend to the fuselage, thus opening the structure and releasing the mail stored therein.

"The engineering section of the aeronautical branch has calculated that there would be a load in excess of 100,000 pounds upon the engine and the engine mount should one blade of the propeller break off at normal cruising speed.

"The investigation indicates that this load snapped the wing off and then almost smiltuaneously the propeller hub broke, releasing the other two blades. Late today these three blades and the hub had not been found, although a searching party has been searching the country for miles around the accident."

Wing Was Severed.

Investigators assumed that something severed the wing with little or no warning on the theory that there was no serious difficulty at the last radio report, two minutes before the time of the cash as fixed by watches of three of the victims, and eye-witness reports of a wing section foating away from the plane in its fatal dive near Bazaar, Kans.

In reconstructing the picture, investigators found mail and mail sacks on the ground for one-quarter of a mile from the wing section to the airplane, with one mail sack close to the wing.

"This indicated," the statement said, "that the fuselage must have been damaged while in the air since the mail was stored in a compartment under and behind the pilotts seat."

The statement said the findings were informal and not to be construed as official.

Broken Propeller Suggested.

WICHITA, Kas., April 3.—(AP)—Anthony Fokker, designer of the airplane in which Knute Rockne and seven others fell to their deaths, said a boken propeller would have caused the wreck. He was informed of department of commerce investigators' finidng last night.

"We have not yet completed our investigation of the propellers and the motors," he said, "but if that is what happened there is no doubt it would exert sufficient strain on the wings to cause it to break."

Fokker returned here after inspecting the wreckage near Bazaar, Kas., where the plane fell last Tuesday. The motors and propeller blades, some of which the sheriff found in the hands of souvenir hunters, were brought here.

To Continue Crash Probe

KANSAS CITY, April 3.—(AP)—Anthony Fokker, en route to New York by airplane, said here today investigation of the crash of the air liner which caused the death of Knute Rockne and seven others would be continued in hope of determining the cause.

The designer of the ilfated plane reiterated previous statements that he believed the parting of a wing was a secondary cause.

"What caused it to break, I do not know, but clearly it was broken by stress beyond the ordinary stress a wing is subjected to. It may have been a broken propeller blade that caused the undue strese as indicated in a report of government investigators."

The investigation was hampered by the work of sourvenir hunters, Fokker said. The plane in which the designer rode was piloted by Jack Frye, vice-president in charge of operations for Transcontinental and Western Air, Inc., owners of the crashed transport.

CHANGES MIND; IS CANDIDATE

GAINESVILLE, April 6.—(AP)—R. E. Wooldridge, Gainesville lumberman who recently resigned as a member of the Gainesville city council, then reconsidered—but only after an election had been called to select his successor—is a candidate for election tomorrow to his own unexpired term. His opponent was William R. Block, hardware merchant.

Gregg County Brings In Its Largest Well

LONGVIEW, April 6.—(AP)—Gregg county today recorded its largest producer to date, the Arkansas Fuel Company's No. 1 P. D. Harrison, which was completed and gauged at the rate of 19,680 barrels a day on the first 30-minute gauge test.

Twenty feet of oil sand were penetrated between 3,540 and 3,-560 feet. The well is an east offset to the Magnolia Petroleum No. 4 Rodden, now coring for sand, and is 600 yards east of the Lathrop discovery well.

The Arkansas Fuel Company's No. 1-C Lathrop cored sand over the week-end and set casing to 3,579 feet. The B. A. Skipper Oil Company's No. 8 Snoddy also cored sand and was setting casing today.

ELY SAYS BRIDGE WILL NOT BE OPEN BEFORE JULY DATE

STORM OF DISSENSION AT DENISON BRINGS STATEMENT FROM CHAIRMAN

AUSTIN, April 3.—(AP)—W. R. Ely, chairman of the Texas highway commission, said today the free bridge across the Red river between Denison and Durant, Okla., would not be opened before July 1 and that the Texas commission would abide "religiously" by the terms of the agreement with the owners of the toll bridge between the two cities.

Ely was informed that statements issued yesterday, that the bridge would not be opened until that time, had aroused a storm of protest from citizens of Denison.

"They have a right to protest," Ely said, "but there is nothing that can be done about it. We are going to comply with the provisions of the contract and abide by it religiously.

"The Texas highway department had to bear the burden of operating with the toll bridge open and had no aid from the Oklahoma commission. We felt that we would not be able to construct or open a free bridge across the Red river for five years, because of pending and threatened suits against the projects. No one protested when we entered into the agreement with the toll bridge owners and since we have, we will live up to the agreement.

"As far as I am concerned, that is final and all I have to say now or hereafter."

Inter-State Dissension.

D. K. Martin, member of the highway commission, said yesterday the Oklahoma commission had been working crews night and day to get the bridge finished before the time stipulated in the agreement. Claiming it was calculatd to embarass the Texas highway commission. He also said the Texas commission would not inspect the bridge until it was ready for opening.

The bridge has been a bone of contention between the commissions of the two states since its construction was started.

The approaches to the bridge from the Texas side have not been constructed but will be completed by the time set for the opening of the bridge.

Governor Sterling was not at the capitol and could not be reached for a statement concerning the bridge controversy. Sterling was chairman of the Texas commission when the agreement was made.

Here Are Some New Suggestions.

Use medicated soap for shampooing, but shave a cake of it into hot water to make it a liquid. Dry your hair in the sun as soon as the weather allows. Use sulphur ointment for dandruff and bald spots, if these spots are small. Often these come from general nervousness, but they must be cured quickly. Crude oil will do, too. And an egg shampoo to get the oil off before the regular shampoo.

You probably have my pet tonic. Another tonic, which is fine for blondes and redheads, is resorcin—10 grains to 2 ounces of alcohol, and made up for you by your druggist.

C. Q.—Massage the places over your hips every day to get rid of some of the fleshiness. You will be able to get some of it down by using a roller and an ordinary rolling pin will do, if need be.

Dot—Your blood needs attention when you get styes on your eyelids. As you have them repeatedly, you should consult your doctor about them, so that you may be put in a healthy condition all over. Cold compresses over the eyes relieve the burning sensation while the stye is coming to a head but that is just a relief, and the cure means to get your system in good condition.

E. D.—Your sister should weigh about 125 pounds with height of five feet, four inches, at 25 years of age.

STOCK MARKET IN SHARPLY UPWARD TURN ON MONDAY

FLURRY SHORT COVERING BROUGHT HIGHER PRICES IN EARLY TRADING

NEW YORK, April 6.—(AP)—Weakness of the steel shares contributed substantially to a reaction in stock prices today after an early upturn based on short covering. Forenoon advances of 1 to 3 points were generally eliminated and many of the leaders sold under the Saturday close. U. S. Steel dropped more than 2 points to a new low and there were similar losses in New York Central, Eastman Kodak and DuPont. Bethlehem, Crucible, Westinghouse, International Harvester and Johns-Mansville yielded about a point. Auburn Auto lost all of a 16 point advance. Sales approximated 1,500,000 shares.

NEW YORK, April 6.—(AP)—Another flurry of short covering sent the stock market abruptly higher at the resumption of trading today.

The covering movement was a continuation of that which developed Saturday. The market was still governed primarily by internal technical conditions, rather than outside developments in business and trade.

Auburn was again a sensation, surging up more than 13 points to a new peak above 270, compared to its January low of 101 1-2. Allied Chemical shot up nearly 4 and American Tobacco "B" rose 3 to a new top for 1931. American Can and Case advanced about 2.

Several shares sold up a point or more in the first half hour, but rails, oils and coppers continued to lag, and a number of the so-called pivotal shares failed to follow. U. S. Steel was barely changed Issues up a point or more, however, included Radio, Bethlehem Steel, Consolidated Gas, Electric Power and Light Continental Can and Stone and Webster. Columbian Carbon was a weak spot, dropping 3.

Sterling cables were steady at $4.85 15-16.

New Orleans Cotton Irregular.

NEW ORLEANS, April 6.—(AP)—As Liverpool was closed today for the Easter holidays, cotton here opened slightly irregular, first trades showing one point up to two down. After the start, the market improved owing to the advance in stocks and wheat on Saturday, July rallied up to 1078 and October to 11.08, or three to four points above the previous close.

At the end of the first hour, the market was quiet, steady and tending upward owing to a rather firm opening of stock market. Trading was very moderate, however.

New York Cotton Steady.

NEW YORK, April 6.—(AP)—Cotton opened steady today 1 point higher to 2 points lower and showed a generally steady tone during the early trading with May working up to 10.52 and October to 11.08 or about 3 to 4 points net higher.

There was some buying here for Wall street and Western account as well as covering and moderate trend demand which was supplied by Southern and local selling on the bulge. Owing to the continuation of the Easter holidays there were no Liverpool cables to influence sentiment here but there may have been som buying on a report of cold rains in the eastern belt over the holidays, and continued reports of a sharp reduction in fertilizer tag sales. The Liverpool market will reopen for business tomorrow.

Gandhi Plans Visit Soon to United States

NEW DELHI, India, April 6.—(AP)—Mahama Gandhi is considering a visit to the United States, either before or after the second round table conference in London, it was announced today. Gandhi believes, it was said, that Inida's liberation movement will receive greater world support if he visits the country which 150 years ago faced much the same problem which he claims is now confronting India.

Grain and Provisions

CHICAGO, April 6.—(AP)—Influenced by suspicious crop reports from domestic winter wheat territory, grain prices tended downward early today. Profit taking for recent purchasers was in evidence. Opening 5-8c off to 1-4c up, wheat later underwent a general sag. Corn started unchanged to 5-8c down, and subsequently declined further.

Wheat closed nervous, unchanged to 1 3-8 cents lower, corn 1@1 1-2 down, oats 1-8 to 3-8 off, and provisions unchanged to five cents up.

PLANS COMPLETED FOR 4-H COUNTY PANTRY EXHIBIT

Plans were virtually completed for a 4-H pantry exhibit to be presented within a few ways, and a linen display was arranged at the regular meeting of the Navarro County Home Demonstration club council held in the chamber of commerce Saturday afternoon.

It is expected that the pantry will be completed by the latter part of the week and after a few days showing at the chamber of commerce will be exhibited in the lobbies of various banks in the county.

Linens prepared by members of the club during the winter months, were displayed, including towels, dresser scarfs, and pillow cases, and will be placed on exhibit in the windows of the Chamber of Commerce building for a short time.

PANTAGES TO BE TRIED

LOS ANGELES, April 6.—(AP)—District Attorney Buron Fitts announced today Alexander Pantages would be retired on charges of criminally attacking Eunice Pringle, co-ed dancer. A new trial was granted to Pantages last week by the state supreme court.

LEGISLATURE BACK AT WORK MONDAY TO FACE FULL CALENDAR

MAIN LEGISLATIVE PROGRAM UNCOMPLETED WITH ONLY 32 DAYS LEFT

AUSTIN, Auril 6.—(AP)—With only 32 more working days in which to dispose of major appropriation bills and several others statewide importance, the legislature resumed work again today with calendars filled to overflowing.

The senate worked nearly all day Saturday passing local and non-controversial bills while the house local bill calendar was in fair shape. The house spent all of last week working on two bills to regulate commercial traffic on the highways and prediction was made that if that much time was spent on other important bills the legislature would be in session several weeks beyond May 12, the date for adjournment.

The drivers' license bill will be brought up again for action some time this week and little trouble was anticipated in getting it passed, its authors having agreed to several amendments, proposed when the bill was under consideration two weeks ago.

The bill by Representative Brooks of Bagwell to reimburse counties for money expended on the state highways system from current gasoline funds also will be brought up this week, Brooks indicated.

A spirited fight to get the Petsch public utility bill printed on minority report will be made. It was favored over other public utility regulation bills by Governor Sterling but despite this fact the house state affairs committee voted it out unfavorably last week. Sponsors of the measure said they believed they could muster enough votes to have the bill printed.

An attempt also will be made this week to bring up for floor action the highly controversial oil divorce bill proposing to ban producers, transporters and refiners of oil from the retail distribution of the finished product. The bill was bitterly bought in committee and approved by only one vote.

Oil Regulation Bill

Immediately after disposition of the oil divorce bill, the bill to establish a conservation commission to regulate the production of gas and oil will be taken up fin the house. Sponsors have agreed to dispose of the troublesome oil divorce bill before starting on the conservation bill, generally regarded as equally troublesome.

The most important committee hearings will be held by the house committee on revenue and taxation. Tonight the committee will hear arguments on a bill by Representative Gilbert of Cisco to levy a tax on railway cars in the county where they are maintained.

Tomorrow night the bill by Representative Duvall of Fort Worth, to levy a tax on the investments of insurance companies and one by Representative Anderson of San Antonio, to levy a gross receipts tax on life insurance companies will be heard.

Wednesday a hearing will be held on a bill by Representative Welnert of Seguin to require the state tax commissioner to value the lands of the University of Texas for tax purposes and on a bill by Representative Long of Wichita Falls, levying a gross receipts tax on telegraph companies.

HOUSE SPENDS DAY ARGUING ON TRUCK SIZES AND WEIGHTS

AUSTIN, April 3.—(AP)—The house today passed the bill by Representatives Stevenson and Murphy limiting the size, width, height and load of trucks operating on state highways. The vote was 104 to 24.

The vote on the bill came unexpectedly after the house had worked continuously through the noon hour. A flood of amendments was cut off when the bill was put on third reading when the previous question was moved immediately. Had the amendment been introduced, debate on the bill would have lasted several hours.

Representative Stevenson, who had steered the bill up until yesterday afternoon when he fell out with other proponents, voted against it on engrossment and on final passage. He predicted it would be vetoed by the governor. Several other members made the same prediction, Stevenson bitterly opposed the 7,000 pound limit.

Voting against the bill were Representative Beck of Fort Worth, Burns of Huntsville, Donnell of Hillsboro, Englehard of Eagle Lake, Daniel of Crockett, Farmer of Fort Worth, Harrison of El Paso, Greathouse of Fort Worth Hanson of Tyler, Hardy of Breckenridge, Hatchitt of Wichita Falls, Hoskins of Gonzales, Huyhes of Dallas, Lockhart of Lubbock, Long of Wichita Falls, McCombs of Dallas, McDougald of Beaumont, Pope of Corpus Christi, Richardson of Grand Saline, Scott of Sweetwater, Shelton of San Marcos, Sherrill of Bellevue, Stevenson of Junction, Walker of Vernon and West of Jonesboro.

As passed the bill would limit loads to 7,000 pounds; width to 96 inches; height to 11 feet; lenth of single unit to 30 feet and of combination trucks and trailers to 35 feet.

BOY HERO OF SCHOOL BUS TRAGEDY TO BE REWARDED BY NIGHT AT WHITE HOUSE

WASHINGTON, April 4.—(AP)—The 13-year-old boy hero of the Colorado school bus tragedy will be rewarded for his resourcefulness by something not many grownups can boast of—a night at the white house as the guest of the president.

But the youngster will be without his brother, who froze to death with four other children in a school bus stalled in a blizzard near Towner, Colorado, last week.

After President Hoover returned from his Caribbean trip he read of the Colorado tragedy. Impressed by the story of Bryan Unteidt, he invited the boy to be his guest. The invitation was accepted and in about two weeks Bryan will be able to leave the Lamar, Colorado, hospital and come to the capital.

The story that brought the white house invitation was this: A blizzard on March 26 stopped the Pleasant Hill school bus. The driver, Carl Miller, went for help, leaving Bryan in charge.

Miller did not come back. He froze to death.

Through the day Bryan tried to keep his school mates busy and satisfied. He organized boxing matches and games to keep the blood flowing and hold off lassitude that creeps through a freezing body.

When night came tired children succumbed to the penetrating and increasing cold. Bryan gave them his own wraps. One of the first to die was his brother, Orlo.

Finally the missing bus was found. Five of the 22 children were dead. The others, including Bryan, were in agony from frostbite.

Seventeen children were saved and taken to the Lamar hospital where they now are recovering.

COLD DRIZZLE FAILED TO DAMPEN SPIRITS OF TOTS ANNUAL EASTER EGG ROLL

WASHINGTON, April 6.—(AP)—Despite a thin cold drizzle, hundreds of children came to the white house today to frolic in the traditional Easter Monday egg roll.

It began with normal attendance, the only result of the rain being to add vari-colored umbrellas to the scene. Several hundred children, from babies to go-carts of ten years olds, were waiting when the iron gates swung open at 9 o'clock.

Massed in the east room, about 200 children of government officials crowded to the windows over looking the broad south grounds. They had been invited by Mrs. Hoover to join her three grandchildren, Peggy Ann, Herbert Hoover III, and Joan.

At ten o'clock the program which Mrs. Hoover planned began. The blue and red uniformed marine band swung into the south grounds, marched up to a raised platform in the center, removed rain protectors from their instruments, and struck up a folk song. A group of about 30 girls moved into a roped-off rectangle and began a folk dance.

Knolls along the edges of the grounds were the most popular points. There scores tossed their eggs into mid air, and rolled them down to shrieking playmates.

Gaily colored baskets swung from the children's arms. Grownups admitted only if accompanied by a child, spread blankets on the grass and assisted in games.

SENATE ARGUED BILL GIVE LAND TITLE TO TOWN

AUSTIN, April 6.—(AP)—The senate today argued a proposal from Senator Parr of Benavides that the state transfer title to 1,700 acres of submerged land in Laguna Madre to the little coast town of Port Isabel.

Senator Purl of Dallas sought to amend the bill to head off any attempt by the town to sell or lease the property to individuals or corporations.

Another proposed amendment by Senator Moore of Greenville which states that in the event Port Isabel transferred or leased the land the proceeds should go into the state available school funds and that all such deals should first be approved by the attorney general, was pending as a substitute to the Purl amendment.

Senator DeBerry asked why proponents of the bill were so anxious to "sew up" the deal there before the federal government came in to dig a main channel. It later developed that the federal government had planned to spend much money in digging the channel.

During the discussion Senator Parr said the land commissioner had said the land was not worth more than one dollar per acre and that Port Isabel sought to pay that amount for the land.

The bill was tabled subject to call.

A bill by Senator Woodul of Houston providing that corporations might, with consent of two-thirds of its stockholders, issue preferred stock on the same basis as common stock is now issued, was passed.

The second bill passed by the senate was by Senator Woodward of Coleman and proposed to make a felony the impersonation of a Texas Ranger.

Fee System Discussed.

A resolution by Senator Purl of Dallas, proposing an amendment to the constitution to abolish the fee system as compensation to officeholders, was discussed at length, but was tabled subject to call at the request of its author. Purl said he desired to give the senators time in which to carefully study the provisions of his regulation.

On motion of Senator Poage of Waco, the senate accepted an invitation to attend the East Texas Chamber of Commerce convention at Marlin April 20.

The senate passed one of the child welfare bills, a proposal by Senator Woodul of Houston to permit counties to extend aid to women whose husbands are insane, are envicts or have deserted them.

STATISTICES ARE GIVEN CONCERNING LOCAL INSTITUTIONS

ROTARIANS HEARD BUSINESS REPORTS AT NOON MEETING ON MONDAY

Statistical information concerning a number of business institutions in Corsicana was given by several speakers at the Rotary club Monday noon. H. J. Ellis, president, was elected to represent the local club at the 48th district conference in Port Arthur next Monday and Tuesday. Sam P. Cochran of Dallas was elected to represent the Corsicana club at the international convention in Vienna in the near future.

Joel C. Trimble had charge of the program Monday.

Miss Fernelle Hopkins, student in the Robert E. Lee school, rendered several saxaphone numbers, with Joel Trimble at the piano.

J. S. Halley, superintendent of the State Orphans Home, stated that three years ago there were 509 inmates in the State Home and today there are 822. There have been 100 admitted to the Home since Jan. 1, and more than 400 children are on the wating list at the present time.

State Home Statistics.

There are 85 employees at the Home, 29 of whom are teachers, and the payroll amounts to $6,000 per month, all of which is spent in Corsicana. Mr. Halley stated that it costs $28.60 per month per child, and that the Home spent $185,000 allottment last year. The stock in the store invoices $26,000, and during he past two years, buildings have been erected at the Home costing $215,000. The new buildings include power plant, $40,000; high school, $70,000; dining room, $85,000, and dairy barn, $20,000. He stated that the dairy barn at the State Home was the best in Texas, according to a number who have inspected it. One of the finest dairy herds in the state is kept by the State Home, with 135 cows.

Bob Sizemore, district manager of the Southwestern-Bell Telephone company, said that business had fallen off considerably, but all employees were still at work and there had been no reduction in salaries.

Spends Much Here.

C. C. Roberts, manager of the Southland Cotton Oil company, said his firm's business was seasonal, and that the cost of operating the local unit approximated from $37,500 to $50,000 annually, with about 60 per cent represented by salaries and wages. Between $450,000 and $800,000 is spent annually for raw materials—cottonseed. During the rush season, about 50 men are employed, while in the off season, seven are kept. There has not been any reduction in salaries.

Jack Sanders of the Southern Pacific Lines, said that about 2,000 cars of fruit and other products were handled through Corsicana per month, and that the fruit trains arrive here from the coast in four days. There are 17 men, exclusive of the flagmen, carmen, section and other employees, with a monthly payroll of $2,500.

Many Men Employed.

Ted E. Ferguson, manager of the Texas Power & Light company, said there were from 35 to 38 men in this district. The payroll amounts to from $5,500 to $6,500 per month. He said that during the last three years, where $1 is now charged for current to the domestic consumer, it would have cost $1.29, and that the $1 now charged to the business firms would have cost $1.35 at that time.

The power for the Corsicana area comes mainly from the plant at Trinidad, but the local system is connected with power lines from the Dallas, Waco and other generating plants, and nothing would cause Corsicana to be without power and lights longer than a few hours except the destruction of the local sub-station.

F. W. Moon, manager of the local Cola Cola plant said that Navarro county consumed about 100,000 cases of Coca cola other than that served at fountains. Fifteen employees are used at the local plant.

Many Autos in County

E. W. Ellis of the E. W. Ellis & Company, said there were approximately 15,000 automobiles in Navarro county in 1924, and that there were only slightly over 7,000 passenger cars registered this year, a reduction of approximately 1,400 from last year. He said the average life of a car was about seven years.

There are 38 employees in the local E. W. Ellis & Company organization with a payroll of $42,000 per year. About 300 batteries are handled by the firm monthly.

The program next week will be in charge of Dr. O. L. Smith and Harrison Fendley.

Miss Dana Kimes of Kerens was in Corsicana Monday.

Waymon Price and wife of Kerens were in Corsicana Monday.

Mrs Will Bain was in Corsicana Monday from Kerens.

Lamar C. Bowling for the purpose and with the intent of taking from Boling $50,000."

The indictments gainst the three were the first returned in Texas under a new kidnapping statute passed by the present legislature as an emergency measure. Under the statute, it is possible for the state to assess a death penalty.

Valls Refuses Talk

District Attorney John A. Valls refused to reveal what penalty the state would ask in connection with the charges.

Witnesses named in the blanket indictment were Homer T. Sealey, state highway patrolman who arrested Julian and Boren; G. P. Nulty, who assisted Sealey; J. H. Junker, Sheriff Joe Condren, ack Beard, hotel clerk who saw the proceedings in a hotel lobby; Lamar S. Boling, the alleged intended victim; Tom Deats, Laredo interior decorator, and J. C. Blin.

A second blanket indictment against Julian, Boren and Mann charged them with assault with a prohibited weapon and charged that last Thursday the three acting together unlawfully carried a pistol so as to make an assault upon Lamar S. Boling. Witnesses in that count were identical with those in the other indictment.

Third Indictment

A third indictment named Julian, Boren and Mann and charged they unlawfully conspired and entered into an agreement to forcefully and by "threat, fraud and duress" kidnap Boling for the purpose of demanding and extorting $50,000 from him. A single indictment returned against Clay Mann charged him with unlawfully carrying arms. A single indictment returned against Julian made a similar char

PANHANDLE PLAINS DAIRY SHOW OPENED PLAINVIEW MONDAY

PLAINVIEW, April 6.—(AP)—The "queens," "kings" and "princesses" of registered dairy herds in West Texas vied for honors and $6,500 in prizes here today as the fourth annual Texas Panhandle Plains Dairy show opened.

When the entry list closed 230 animals were in the exhibit barns, the pride of 71 exhibitors and 18 counties. Most of the prize winners of last year were black seeking to retain their honors but most of them were expected to meet much competition from young animals and others brought in to improve West Texas herds.

Jerseys were greatly in the majority, this section being widely known for its Jersey herds. Here also were 17 Holsteins and Guernseys considered a good showing for this section. Show officials said the quality of each class surpassed former shows.

Sixteen counties had 28 entries in the dairy production contest which began yesterday. Winners in this department will be announced tomorrow.

Vocational agriculture stock judging teams representing 18 high school and 4-H club teams from two counties were competing today. Most of them had met in numerous contests during recent weeks but their work today was to be limited to dairy cattle and high grade. Ray C. Mowery, [illegible] animal husbandry department, Texas Technological college, is in charge of the contests.

OHIO CONVICTS PLEAD NOT GUILTY TO MURDER CHARGE

COLUMBUS, Ohio, April 6.—(AP)—Hugh Gibson and Clinto Grate, Ohio penitentiary convicts who confessed they were responsible for the fire of a year ago when 320 prisoners perished, today pleaded not guilty to three indictments charging first degree murder.

The pleas were heard by Judge C. J. Randall after he had named four attorneys to defend the men. Both prisoners said they were without counsel and without funds with which to employ attorneys.

Gibson and Grate had announced their confessions last week that they would plead guilty if the court would guarantee that they would be sentenced to the electric chair immediately. They asked to confer with Judge Randall Saturday, but he refused, holding that the consequences of such a plea were so great he would not listen to it until after the men had conferred with attorneys.

An indication that the pleas might be changed was given when the attorneys informed the court they retained the right to make a change later if they thought necessary.

Date of the trial will be set after attorneys for Gibson and Grate decide upon a future course.

Despondent Farmer Kills Young Son and Then Takes Own Life

HOMER, Mich., April 6.—(AP)—Apparently despondent over financial affairs, a 56-year-old farmer yesterday killed his 10-year-old son and took his own life at his home near this village.

The farmer, Myron C. Littlebrandt, called the boy, Richard, who was playing with his brother, Leslie, 14. "Do you want me, too?" asked Leslie.

"No, just Richard," answered the father and led the boy to the rear of a woodshed. A few minutes later two shots were heard by Mrs. Lillebrandt, who found her husband and son dead.

A note in Littlebrandt's billfold said he feared he would "lose the farm" and that Richard "was too young to face a hard world."

SINCLAIR REFUSES DISCUSS REPORTED RIO GRANDE BUY

NEW YORK, April 6.—(AP)—Officials of the Sinclair Consolidated Oil corporation declined today to comment on published reports that the company will take steps shortly to buy an interest in the Rio Grande Oil company.

It it not the policy of the company to report on such reports unless there is some "impelling reason" to do so it was said.

It was said in oil circles that the Rio Grande unit would afford the Sinclair company a means of distribution for all petroleum products on the Pacific coast, an advantage which it does not have now.

Further it is known that the Sinclair interests are ready to make such deals whenever the properties of the other company will help improve Sinclair operations, provided an agreement can be reached on price.

An informant intimate with Rio Grande affairs expressed the opinion that the Sinclair interests would obtain control.

There have been recurrent rumors for some weeks that the Sinclair interests have sought an interest in Rio Grande.

Jerusalem was like an armed camp over Easter, with machine guns placed about the city and armored cars patrolling the streets because of expected riots between Mufti and Antimufti forces during a procession of 2,000 Moslems. The parade however was concluded without disturbance.
